A young boy in a dark suit and a bright green tie stands in a vast, cracked, dry desert landscape under a clear blue sky. He is holding a long, curved metal pipe that extends from the ground up into the air. In the background, there are low, rocky mountains.

SORRY!

THE PROMOTIONAL GIFT OF THE YEAR IS NOT HERE__

A young boy in a dark suit and a bright green tie is running across the same cracked desert landscape. He is wearing goggles and has a determined expression. He is carrying a briefcase and there are green flames coming out of his shoes, suggesting he is running very fast.

The icing on the cake

Whe PSI Trade Show reinvented itself in 2013. At the time, staging was the objective which spread through all the aisles of the event. Since then, the new concept has been fine-tuned and the PSI has since become Europe's "fashion trade show" of the promotional product industry. This is not only demonstrated by a large catwalk and a growing number of textile exhibitors. New formats such as "PSI FIRST" have contributed significantly to the fact that there are now distinctly more product premieres at the trade show than in previous years. They are the icing on the cake of every trade show. And if you do not participate, it is difficult to make new products visible on the market.

The icing on the cake now appears in a completely new form in 2017. The focus is on the Industry Customer Day. On the third day of the trade show, distributors and consultants are allowed to bring their customers to the trade show for the first time. What some exhibitors and distributors have wrongfully practised for years is, from now on, an official and certainly invigorating new event in PSI history. The fact that there are still sceptics is understandable and okay, but the PSI 2017 will hopefully convince the remaining doubters.

This is why it is very important that all parties involved comply with the rules which the PSI has developed together with the Trade Show Working Group of the GWW. Anyone failing to comply will find himself in a lot of trouble – up to being excluded from the trade show. In an elaborate process, the PSI has repeatedly pointed out all the rules to all exhibitors. I personally am confident that these rules will be complied with in 99.9 per cent of the cases. During numerous conversations, exhibiting companies have given the assurance that they are in no way interested in direct sales. Anyone who makes direct sales part of his sales channel is already well-known in the industry and every customer can draw his own conclusions from this if he wants to. All in all, exhibitors and visitors are looking forward to this innovation which will surely have an invigorating impact on the order books on both sides. However, I see the greatest benefit in the fact that the advertising industry will finally have access to such an effective and convincing tool as the promotional product. This is the real icing on the cake of the upcoming PSI.

I wish you all a successful trade show, a year full of wonderful moments, the best of health and, of course, great business results. We are looking forward to your continued loyalty.

Szanowni członkowie PSI,

dopiero, gdy premiery produktów są po raz pierwszy przedstawiane w branżowym świecie, gdy koledzy dyskutują o nowych trendach i gdy informacje dają prawdziwą przewagę konkurencyjną, dopiero wtedy można określić targi mianem PSI. Tutaj jesteście w samym centrum wydarzeń. Bowiem targi takie jak PSI są najkrótszą drogą do rynku. Tutaj spotykają się wszyscy znaczący gracze rynkowi w wymiarze krajowym, europejskim i światowym.

Jako forum, gdzie pojawiają się nowości, odbywające się w tym roku po raz 55 targi PSI są od dziesięcioleci największymi w Europie targami dla profesjonalnych firm zajmujących się handlem artykułami reklamowymi. Jako okno wystawowe branży artykułów reklamowych tegoroczne PSI odgrywają szczególną rolę: po raz pierwszy bowiem klienci przemysłowi i przedsiębiorstwa markowe jako zaproszeni goście będą miały możliwość przekonać się ostatniego dnia targów, jak różnorodne, oryginalne i atrakcyjne są artykuły reklamowe jako media dialogu.

Decyzja przygotowana pod kierownictwem ogólnego stowarzyszenia przemysłu artykułów spożywczych przez wszystkie zainteresowane strony i zrealizowana w formie jasnych regulacji, naznaczona jest dużą odpowiedzialnością i wzajemnym zaufaniem. Jest to duży krok naprzód dla całej branży. Związane z nim szanse reklamowania artykułów reklamowych jako nośników reklamy oraz uwolnienia nowych impulsów dla branży są trudne do przecenienia. Opuszczamy tym samym ostatecznie niszę, do której jako nieuświadomiona do tej pory wielkość na rynku reklamowym już dawno nie należymy.

Pokażmy nasze mocne strony. Przesłanie jest jasne: artykuły reklamowe tworzą przeżycia rynkowe posiadające wartość dodaną. Oferują to, czego media cyfrowe daremnie poszukują – dotykowe, sensoryczne przeżycia i bezpośredni kontakt. Jakie medium reklamowe to potrafi? I gdzie branża mogłaby lepiej się zaprezentować niż na PSI? W imieniu całego zespołu PSI serdecznie zapraszamy.

Уважаемый член PSI!

Только тогда, когда в широком кругу специалистов впервые представляются новинки продукции, коллеги обсуждают новые тенденции и информация превращается в настоящее конкурентное преимущество, выставка становится PSI. Здесь Вы в самом центре. Поскольку такие выставки как PSI — это кратчайший путь на рынок. В одном месте она собирает всех значимых игроков рынка в национальном, европейском и глобальном масштабах.

Как форум новинок, PSI, которая в этом году проводится в 55-й раз, уже десятилетиями является наибольшей во всей Европе выставкой для профессиональной торговли рекламной продукцией. Как витрине индустрии рекламной продукции, PSI в этом году выпала особая роль, поскольку впервые промышленные клиенты и брендовые компании в качестве приглашенных гостей имеют возможность в последний день выставки составить картину разнообразия, оригинальности и привлекательности рекламной продукции как средства диалога.

Решение, подготовленное всеми сторонами под руководством Общего союза индустрии рекламной продукции (Gesamtverband der Werbeartikelwirtschaft) и осуществленное с четким набором правил, характеризуется большой ответственностью и взаимным доверием. Большой шаг для всей отрасли. Возможности, заключающиеся в использовании рекламной продукции в качестве носителя рекламы и предоставлении импульса для отрасли, огромны. Этим мы окончательно выходим из ниши, к которой, как скрытая сила на рынке рекламы, уже давно не относимся.

Покажем наши сильные стороны. Посыл четкий: рекламная продукция создает опыт отношений с брендом с добавленной стоимостью. Она предлагает то, чего тщетно ищут цифровые средства коммуникации — осязательное, сенсорное переживание и непосредственный, прямой контакт. Какое рекламное средство уже может это? И где отрасли могут показать себя лучше, чем на PSI? От имени всей команды PSI, добро пожаловать!

Bästa PSI-medlemmar!

När produktpremiärer lanseras i branschvärlden, när kollegor diskuterar nya trender och när verkliga konkurrensfördelar uppstår ur information, först då uppstår PSI ur en mässa. Här står du i centrum, eftersom mässor som PSI är den kortaste vägen till marknaden. På ett och samma ställe hittar man alla relevanta marknadsaktörer i både nationell, europeisk och global dimension.

Egenskap av nyhetsforum är PSI, som i år firar 55-årsjubileum, Europas största mässor för professionella reklamartiklar. Årets PSI har en särskilt viktig roll att spela som skyltfönster inom promotion: för första gången kommer bransch kunder och märkesföretag att som inbjudna besökare få möjlighet att under den sista mässtdagen göra sig en bild av hur mångsidiga, originella och tilltalande reklamartiklar är som dialogmedia.

Detta beslut, som har beretts av alla parter under ledning av "Gesamtverband der Werbeartikelwirtschaft" (GWW) och realiserats med ett tydligt regelverk, kännetecknas av en stor ansvarsmedvetenhet och ömsesidigt förtroende. Det är ett stort steg för hela branschen. De möjligheter som finns här, att göra reklam för promotion-artiklar som budskapsbärare och att frisätta impulser för branschen, är mycket stora. Vi tar nu steget ut ur en nisch som vi inte längre tillhör.

Låt oss visa upp våra styrkor. Budskapet är klart och tydligt: reklamartiklar skapar märkesupplevelser med mervärde. De erbjuder det som digitala media inte kan leverera – en upplevelse av beröring och känsla, och en ren, direkt kontakt. Vilket reklammedium klarar det? Och var kan branschen bättre visa upp sig än på PSI? Hela PSI-teamet hälsar dig hjärtligt välkommen.

Sayın ve çok sevgili PSI üyeleri,

Ürünler uzmanların karşısına ilk kez çıktığında, meslektaşlar yeni yönelimleri tartıştığında ve bilgilerden tam bir rekabet avantajı ortaya çıktığında, ancak o zaman bir fuar PSI'ye dönüşür. Burada tam göbeğindesiniz. Çünkü PSI gibi fuarlar, piyasaya giden en kısa yoldur. Ulusal, Avrupa çapında ve global boyutta piyasanın en önemli aktörlerini aynı yerde bir araya getirirler.

Bu yıl 55. kez düzenlenen PSI, yeniliklerin forumu olarak profesyonel promosyon ürünleri ticaretinde onyıllardan bu yana Avrupa çapında en büyük fuardır. Bu yılki PSI'ye, promosyon ürünleri endüstrisinin vitrini olarak özel bir rol düşmektedir, çünkü davetli ziyaretçiler olarak endüstriyel müşteriler ve marka şirketleri fuarın son gününde ilk kez promosyon ürünlerinin diyalog araçları olarak ne kadar çeşitli, orijinal ve câzip olduğuna ilişkin izlenim edinme fırsatını elde edecekler.

Promosyon Ürünleri Endüstrisi Birliği'nin (GWW) öncülüğünde tüm taraflarca hazırlanan ve net düzenlemelerle hayata geçirilen karara, büyük bir sorumluluk ve karşılıklı güven damga vurmuştur. Tüm sektör açısından büyük bir adım bu. Reklam aracı olarak promosyon ürünleri reklamı yapmakta ve sektör için itki yaymakta yatan fırsatlar büyüktür. Böylelikle reklam piyasasının gizli devi olarak aslında uzun süredir ait olmadığımız köşemizden çıkmaktayız.

Gücümüzü gösterelim. Mesaj çok açık: promosyon ürünleri, artı değere sahip marka deneyimi yaratmakta. Onlar, dijital medyanın arayıp bulamadığı şeyleri sunmakta; haptik, sensörük deneyimi ve doğrudan teması. Hangi reklam aracı bunu yapabilir? Ve sektör, kendini PSI'den başka nerede en güzel sergileyebilir? Tüm PSI ekibi adına hoşgeldiniz diyorum.

Michael Freter, PSI Sorumlu Müdürü

Sehr geehrti, liebi PSI-Mitglieder, wenn d'Produkt Premiera zum ersta Mol der Fachwelt präsentiert werdet, Kollega neui Trends diskutieret und us Informationa echti Wettbewerbsvorteil entstünd, denn ersch wird us era Mess t'PSI, wo Sie voll und ganz dabi sind. Denn t'Messa wia t'PSI sind der kürzisti Weg zum Markt. Sie bringet alli wichtigsta Akteura vom Markt uffara nationala, europawita und globala Dimension an a Ort zemma.

Als Forum vo da Neuheita isch t'PSI, wo das Jahr zum 55. Mol stattfindet, europawit sit Jahrzehnt die gröschti Mess für der professionelli Werbeartikelhandel. Der diesjöhri PSI kunt als Schaufenster a psunderi Rolle vo der Werbeartikelwirtschaft zua, well zum ersta Mol werdet d'Industriekunda und Markaunternehma als igladeni Bsuecher d'Möglichkeit ha, sich am letschta Messtag as Bild davo z'macha, wia vielfältig, originell und attraktiv d'Werbeartikel als Dialogmedia sind.

D'Entscheidig, wo vo allna Sita unter der Federführig vom Gesamtverband der Werbeartikelwirtschaft (GWW) vorbereitet und mit klara Regla umgesetzt worda isch, kennzeichnet sich durch grossi Verantwortig und gägasitigem Vertraua us und isch a grossa Schritt für dia gsamti Brancha. Dadurch sind d'Chanca zur Werbig vo Werbeartikel als Werbeträger und d'Freisetzig vo Impuls für d'Brancha enorm. Mier verlönd damit endgültig d'Nischa, zu dära mier als heimliche Grössli im Werbemarkt scho lang nümme ghöret.

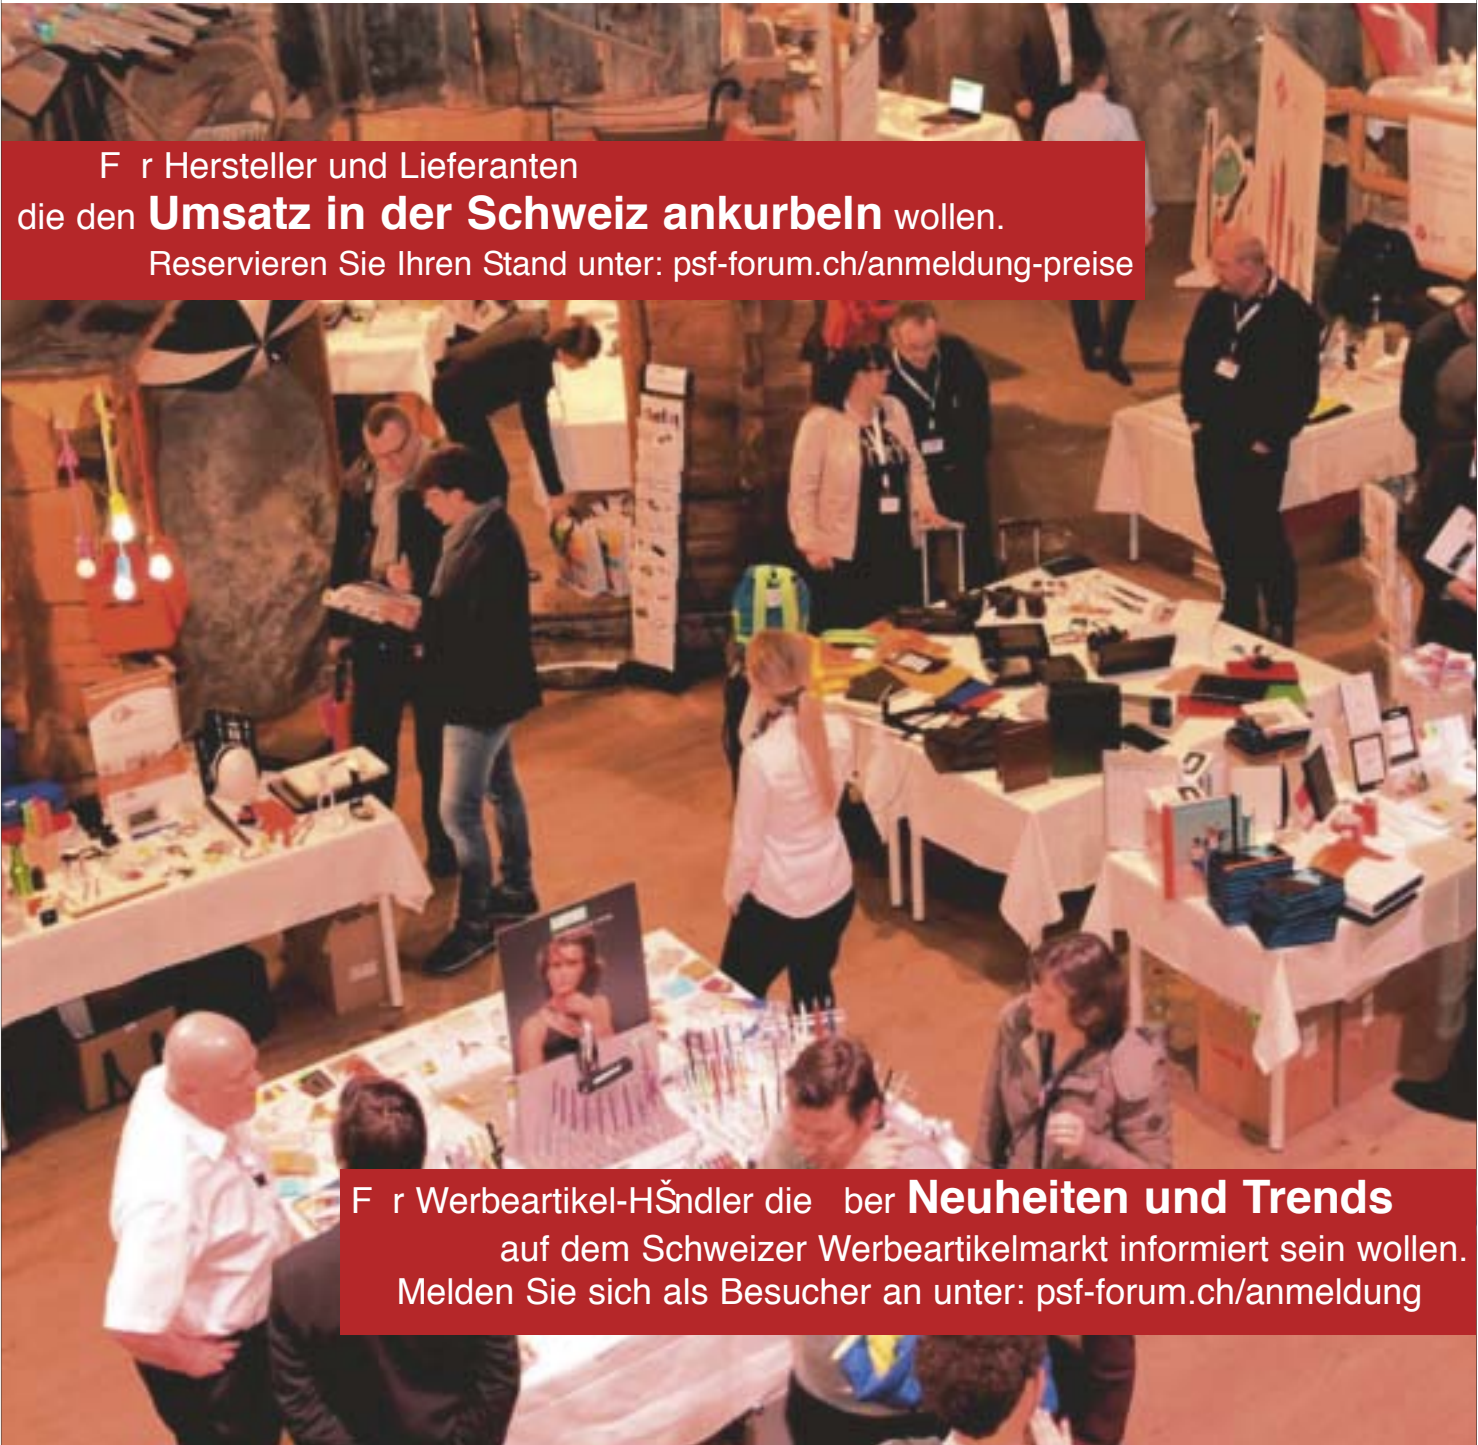

Mier söttet üseri Stärkana zeiga. D'Botschaft liegt uf der Hand: Werbeartikel schaffet Markaerlebnis mit Mehrwert. Sie bütet das, wo digitali Media ohni Erfolg suechet – das fühlbara, sensorische Erlebnis und der unvermittelt, direkti Kontakt. Wälles Werbemedium kann das scho? Und wo könnti sich d'Branche besser zeiga als uf der PSI.

I heissa Sie im Nama vom gsamta PSI-Team herzlich willkommen.

Sehr geehrte, liebe PSI-Mitglieder, wenn Produkt-Premieren zum ersten Mal der Fachwelt präsentiert werden, Kollegen neue Trends diskutieren und aus Informationen echte Wettbewerbsvorteile werden, erst dann wird aus einer Messe die PSI. Hier sind Sie mittendrin. Denn Messen wie die PSI sind der kürzeste Weg in den Markt. Sie bringen an einem Ort alle relevanten Akteure des Marktes in nationaler, europaweiter und globaler Dimension zusammen.

Als Forum der Neuheiten ist die PSI Messe, die in diesem Jahr zum 55. Mal stattfindet, seit Jahrzehnten die europaweit größte Messe für den professionellen Werbeartikelhandel. Als Schaufenster der Werbeartikelwirtschaft fällt der diesjährigen PSI eine besondere Rolle zu: Denn erstmals werden Industriekunden und Markenunternehmen als geladene Besucher die Möglichkeit haben, sich am letzten Messetag ein Bild davon zu machen, wie vielfältig, originell und attraktiv Werbeartikel als Dialogmedien sind.

Die Entscheidung, die von allen Seiten unter Federführung des Gesamtverbandes der Werbeartikelwirtschaft vorbereitet und mit klarem Regelwerk zur Umsetzung gebracht wurde, ist gekennzeichnet von großer Verantwortung und gegenseitigem Vertrauen. Ein großer Schritt für die gesamte Branche. Die Chancen, die darin liegen, für Werbeartikel als Werbeträger zu werben und Impulse für die Branche freizusetzen, sind beträchtlich. Wir treten damit endgültig aus der Nische heraus, in die wir als heimliche Größe im Werbemarkt schon lange nicht mehr gehören.

Zeigen wir unsere Stärken! Die Botschaft liegt auf der Hand: Werbeartikel schaffen Markenerlebnisse mit Mehrwert. Sie bieten das, wonach digitale Medien vergeblich suchen – das haptische, sensorische Erlebnis und den unvermittelten, direkten Kontakt. Welches Werbemedium kann das schon? Und wo könnte sich die Branche besser zeigen als auf der PSI? Seien Sie im Namen des gesamten PSI-Teams herzlich willkommen.

Dear PSI members,

When product premieres are presented among experts for the first time, colleagues discuss new trends, and information is turned into real competitive advantages, only then does a trade show become the PSI. Here you are in the midst of it. Because trade shows like the PSI are the quickest route to the market. They bring all the relevant protagonists of the market in the national, European and global dimension together in one place.

As a forum for new products, the PSI, which is being held this year for the 55th time, has been Europe's biggest trade show for the professional promotional products trade for decades. As a showcase for the promotional products industry, this year's PSI has a special role: because for the first time, on the last day of the trade show, industrial customers and brand companies as invited visitors have the opportunity to get an impression of how diverse, original and attractive promotional items work as dialogue media.

The decision, which was prepared from all sides under the direction of the umbrella association of the German promotional product industry (GWW) and implemented with clear guidelines, is characterised by great responsibility and mutual trust. A big step for the whole industry. The opportunities that this creates for the advertising of promotional items as an advertising medium and for unleashing impulses for the sector are considerable. In this way, we are finally leaving the niche where we haven't belonged for a long time as a hidden element on the advertising market.

Let's show our strengths. The message is obvious: promotional items create brand experiences with added value. They offer what digital media search for in vain – the haptic, sensory experience and unmediated direct contact. Which advertising medium can do that? And where could the industry better show itself than at the PSI. We warmly welcome you in the name of the whole PSI team.

Estimados miembros de la PSI:

Cuando se presentan productos novedosos por primera vez ante el público especializado, los compañeros debaten sobre nuevas tendencias y la información se transforma en verdaderas ventajas competitivas, es entonces cuando nace una feria como la PSI. Usted se encuentra justamente en el centro de este círculo. Las ferias como la PSI son el camino más corto para llegar al mercado. Reúnen en un mismo lugar a los actores más destacados del mercado a nivel nacional, europeo y global.

Como foro de novedades, la PSI (que celebra este año su 55ª edición) es la mayor feria europea del sector profesional de artículos publicitarios desde hace décadas. Este año, la feria PSI asume un papel especial en calidad de escaparate de la industria de los artículos de promoción: los clientes industriales y las empresas de marca, como visitantes invitados, tendrán por primera vez la posibilidad de hacerse una idea de la diversidad, la originalidad y el atractivo de los artículos publicitarios como medios de diálogo el último día de la feria.

La decisión, preparada por todas las partes bajo la dirección de la Asociación General de la Industria de Artículos de Promoción (GWW) y ejecutada con un reglamento claro, se caracteriza por la gran responsabilidad y la confianza mutua. Un gran paso para todo el sector. Las oportunidades inherentes de utilizar los artículos promocionales como medios publicitarios y desencadenar impulsos para el sector son considerables. Con ello, salimos definitivamente del nicho al que no pertenecemos desde hace tiempo como magnate sigiloso dentro del mercado publicitario.

Mostremos nuestros puntos fuertes. El mensaje es claro: los artículos publicitarios hacen posible experiencias de marca con una plusvalía. Ofrecen aquello que los medios digitales persiguen en vano: la experiencia háptica y sensorial y el contacto directo. ¿Qué medio publicitario puede conseguirlo ya? ¿Y dónde podría exhibirse mejor el sector que en la feria PSI? Le damos una afectuosa bienvenida en nombre de todo el equipo de la feria PSI.

Très chers membres PSI,

Un salon devient véritablement un salon PSI lorsque de nouveaux produits sont présentés pour la première fois aux professionnels du secteur, lorsque des collègues discutent de nouvelles tendances et lorsque des informations donnent naissance à de réels avantages en matière de concurrence. Vous êtes alors aux premières loges. Car les salons tels que le PSI sont le plus court chemin qui mène au marché. Ils rassemblent en un seul et même endroit tous les acteurs importants du marché dans une dimension nationale, européenne et mondiale.

En tant que forum des nouveautés, le PSI, dont c'est la 55ème édition cette année, est depuis des décennies le plus grand salon européen dédié au commerce professionnel d'articles publicitaires. En tant que vitrine de l'industrie des articles publicitaires, un rôle particulier incombe au PSI de cette année : en effet, les clients industriels et les entreprises de marque invités auront pour la première fois la possibilité de découvrir, lors du dernier jour du salon, à quel point les articles publicitaires sont diversifiés, originaux et attractifs en tant que médias de dialogue.

La décision, qui a été entièrement préparée sous la responsabilité de la fédération de l'industrie des articles publicitaires (GWW) et mise en œuvre selon des règles bien définies, est caractérisée par une grande responsabilité et une confiance mutuelle. Une étape importante pour toute la branche. Cela représente, pour les articles publicitaires, une chance considérable de promotion en tant que supports publicitaires et de libération des impulsions pour l'industrie. Nous sortons ainsi enfin de la niche à laquelle nous n'appartenons plus depuis longtemps du fait de notre importance discrète sur le marché.

Montrons nos forces. Le message est évident : les articles publicitaires créent des expériences vécues avec des marques à valeur ajoutée. Ils proposent ce que les médias numériques recherchent en vain : l'expérience tactile, sensorielle et le contact direct. Quel support publicitaire en est actuellement capable ? Et quel meilleur endroit de représentation pour l'industrie qu'au PSI ? Soyez, au nom de toute l'équipe PSI, les bienvenus.

Gentili soci PSI,

quando dei prodotti vengono presentati per la prima volta ad un pubblico di esperti, i colleghi discutono dei nuovi trend e dalle informazioni ricavate nascono reali vantaggi competitivi, solo allora una semplice fiera diventa PSI. Noi ci troviamo proprio al centro. Infatti, le fiere come PSI sono la strada più rapida per giungere sul mercato, riunendo in un unico luogo tutti gli attori rilevanti a livello nazionale, europeo e globale.

Quest'anno si terrà la 55a edizione di PSI, un forum di novità e da decenni la più grande fiera europea per il commercio professionale di articoli promozionali. Un'importante vetrina nel settore degli articoli promozionali, che quest'anno svolge un ruolo speciale: per la prima volta, l'ultima giornata fieristica permetterà ai clienti del settore e di marchi aziendali, in veste di ospiti invitati, di conoscere la varietà, l'originalità e l'attrattiva degli articoli promozionali come strumenti di dialogo.

La decisione presa sotto gli auspici dell'associazione generale dell'industria di articoli promozionali (GWW) e implementata con regole chiare, si fonda su un grande senso di responsabilità e fiducia. Un passo enorme per l'intero settore. Vi saranno notevoli possibilità di presentare mezzi pubblicitari e dare impulsi al settore. Lasciamo definitivamente la nicchia di mercato nel settore pubblicitario a cui da tempo non apparteniamo più ufficialmente.

Vi mostriamo i nostri punti di forza. Il messaggio è semplice: gli articoli pubblicitari portano un valore aggiunto ai mercati. Offrono ciò che i mezzi digitali cercano invano: un'esperienza tattile, sensoriale e un contatto diretto, senza intermediazione alcuna. Quale strumento pubblicitario può tutto questo? E quale potrebbe essere la migliore piattaforma espositiva per i vari marchi, se non PSI? Un cordiale benvenuto a nome di tutto il team PSI.

Geachte, beste PSI-leden, als product-premières voor de eerste keer aan de vakwereld worden gepresenteerd, collega's nieuwe trends bespreken en informatie een echt concurrentievoordeel wordt, pas dan kan een beurs uitgroeien tot de PSI. Hier zit u er middenin. Want beurzen zoals de PSI zijn de kortste weg tot de markt. Ze brengen op één plek alle relevante spelers van de markt samen in een nationale, Europawijde en mondiale dimensie.

Als forum van nieuwe producten is de PSI, die dit jaar voor de 55e keer plaatsvindt, sinds tientallen jaren Europa's grootste beurs voor de professionele handel in reclameartikelen. Als uitstallende kast van de sector voor reclamemateriaal heeft de PSI van dit jaar een bijzondere rol te vervullen: want voor de eerste keer zullen industriële klanten en merkoncerningen als genodigden de mogelijkheid hebben om zich op de laatste beursdag een beeld te vormen van hoe divers, origineel en aantrekkelijk reclameartikelen zijn als dialoogmedium.

De beslissing, die van alle kanten onder aanvoering van het algemene verbond van de sector voor reclameartikelen (GWW) werd voorbereid en met een duidelijk reglement werd gerealiseerd, wordt gekenmerkt door een grote verantwoordelijkheid en wederzijds vertrouwen. Een grote stap voor de gehele branche. De kansen die dat biedt voor reclameartikelen om als reclamemedium propaganda te maken en impulsen voor de branche vrij te maken, zijn aanzienlijk. Daarmee maken we maken ons definitief los van de niche, waar wij als heimelijke grootheid in de reclamemarkt allang niet meer thuishoren.

Laten we onze sterktes tonen. De boodschap ligt voor de hand: reclameartikelen scheppen een merkbeleving met meerwaarde. Ze bieden datgene waar digitale media vergeefs naar zoeken – de voelbare, zintuiglijke beleving en het plotselinge, directe contact. Welk reclamemedium kan dat eigenlijk nog? En waar zou de branche dat beter kunnen laten zien dan op de PSI. U bent namens het gehele PSI-team van harte welkom.

Sewn-in labels are often considered to be annoying and are frequently cut off immediately after the textile is bought. Yet they contain important information. Some information must be indicated, other information can be. Birgit Jussen, who has an engineering degree in clothing technology, explains to the PSI Journal what must be marked and how, and why this is also important for the promotional product industry.

Pitfalls of labelling textiles

The label is what matters

Labels are getting longer and longer, and are therefore often annoying and not infrequently show through the textile. However, there are reasons why labels are turning into long flags or a kind of booklet.

They contain information that has a key influence on decisions to buy and is important to know when using the product. Hence it is also important for those responsible to know exactly what information is required. Unfortunately, practical experience often shows that many textiles are incorrectly or inadequately labelled. It is not always easy to find a way through the jungle of specifications, however. Various laws, ordinances and guidelines must be observed. And since globalisation is an issue, and not only when goods are purchased, the respective country-specific requirements where the items are sold must also be taken into account.

Fibre composition and official language are obligatory

The lion's share of text on the label consists of information on the fibre composition. We often find the raw textile materials in various languages. This list is due to the European directive (EU) No. 1007/2011. It first requires that "Textile products shall only be made available on the market provided that such products are labelled, marked or accompanied with commercial documents in compliance with this regulation." So, there is a general obligation in Europe to provide textiles with the fibre composition. Further, the directive states that indication must be in the official language of the European member state. To sum up, the more countries a product is sold in, the more languages must appear on the label. This general obligation to label textiles applies equally to manufacturers and importers – both in stationary and in online trade. The requirements that must be met sometimes differ, however, depending on those involved in each case. However, if they are not fulfilled, that is, if a textile product is incorrectly or inadequately labelled, the EU directive does not stipulate any sanctions. Penalties are the sole responsibility of national legislators. As far as Germany is concerned, this means that the German textile labelling law applies, which only came into force in early 2016. It regulates the effective enforcement of the Europe-wide directive. Whoever infringes it, is acting improperly and can be penalized by a fine of up to 10,000 euros.

Care symbols protected by trademark law

Even though it is not mandatory in Germany – in contrast to Austria, for instance – care instructions are still found in almost every textile product. This has become the established standard and is expected by consumers. When properly marked, at least five symbols provide information on how to care properly in the household laundry as well as for professional textile care. The care symbols are standardized and legally protected internationally by GINETEX, so that the relevant licence must be obtained to use them. The national GINETEX organisations ensure that they are used in accordance with the guidelines of the trademark holders. If the protected symbols are altered or not used properly, a ban on their use could be the consequence.

Manufacturer's address must be stated

The German Equipment and Product Safety Act is not directly connected to textiles, yet it does play an important part in their labelling. For instance, § 5 states that the name of the manufacturer, the representative, or the importer and their address must be indicated on the product or the package. What cases call for this indication to be on the product or on the package is clearly defined. Whoever intentionally or negligently acts in violation of this commits a petty offence and can be penalised, as with violations of the textile labelling ordinance, with a fine of up to 10,000 euros. This indication is also required in other European and non-European countries. The same paragraph of the Birgit Jussen has a degree in engineering for clothing technology and supports the textile and clothing industry with her enterprise "Quality Matters – advice for sewing technology and quality". She addresses questions related to product realisation and optimisation, as well as quality assurance and consulting in the event of complaints, compiles expert opinions and technical documentation, and holds seminars.

product safety act also applies in another case: consumer products, which include textiles, must be clearly labelled for identification. This is intended to help take the affected products more quickly and unambiguously off the market in the event of a recall.

The relevant manufacturing process is decisive

The origin of a product is internationally expressed by stating "Made in ...". In Germany and most EU countries, this information is voluntary. If, however, marking is done, close scrutiny of the production process is required. Since textile manufacture involves a high degree of specialisation and often different countries are involved, care must be taken not to infringe against the prohibition of misleading statements. In many cases, the prevailing opinion is that the country must be indicated in which the final step of manufacture occurred. However, what is decisive is the country in which the essential manufacturing process took place, which gave the goods essential parts and specific characteristics. In many countries, especially outside the European Union, the designation of origin is prescribed when goods are imported. A lack of marking can have various consequences depending on national law: from toleration to a fine and temporary blocking of the goods up to an import prohibition.

Avoid pitfalls

In conclusion, proper labelling of textiles is a science in its own right and entails all sorts of pitfalls. Companies which market textiles should therefore do comprehensive research to avoid penalties. <

PSI 2017: Fireworks of trends and innovations

Come, see, marvel

Un many respects, the PSI Trade Show is a reflection of the promotional product sector. It is proof that new ideas and proven concepts complement each other perfectly to create a lot of new opportunities and perspectives. Just as the wide portfolio of products shown at the trade show ranges from promotional classics to product premieres, the PSI itself is a fruitful combination of both, tradition and innovation. On the foundation of more than 50 years of experience and professionalism, each year a truly individual and ever-changing trade show takes place that is unrivalled in the European trade show landscape.

Three full trade show days

The opening of the trade show on Tuesday 10 January this year will for the first time be the start of three full trade show days with opening times from 9 am to 6 pm. This means more time for visitors to discover new products, to make or consolidate contacts and to acquire valuable practical know-how. The possibilities for this are greater

Come and be amazed at how chic promotional fashion can be!

Premieres and practical know-how

The PSI Trade Show has always been synonymous with innovation and creativity. One example of this is the 50 product premieres which will be staged in a special section of the PSI Institute Competence Area this year. Having a look at Hall 9 is definitely worth it because the PSI Best Practice Forum is also located here at stand 9M04: Know-how from professionals for professionals is offered here in the form of short, half-hour lectures from 10 am until late afternoon each day. The attached programme will help you decide in advance which topics could benefit you in your business. <

DAY & NIGHT

Hardly has the bang of fireworks and firecrackers died down at the end of the year when the next major event announces itself with a loud drum roll. The word “major” must be taken in a literal sense, since the year begins for the industry with its most important highlight. The PSI will be presenting the most interesting innovations and ideas Wfrom the great, colourful world of promotional products to a trend-conscious public at the Düsseldorf fairgrounds for the 55th time. As is well known, a day has 24 hours, hence many people like to carry the positive drive of the day over into the evening hours and see it out with an enjoyable meal. Luckily, Düsseldorf has a wide array of tasty alternatives and is thus ideal for appealing to any palate.

RELAXED, TASTY, LIFESTYLE

Vegan, vegetarian or carnivore after all? A culinary journey to foreign lands or genuine Rhineland cuisine? Quaint or stylish? Those who have a choice certainly always have the possibility to find something suitable in Düsseldorf. Because there's nothing that can't be found here. In other words: there's something for every taste and, above all, for every taste the right alternative. And all those who would like to try something new can enjoy diverse tastes and flavours thanks to the wide variety on offer. In order not to become overwhelmed by the vast range of options, we present a small potpourri of culinary pleasures that the metropolis on the Rhine has to offer on the following pages.

A touch of the Mediterranean: page 52

Gallo Nero, Hot La Cucina, Antiochia, Principale Pizzabar, Estia

A touch of the Mediterranean

Casa Gustosa: Pempelfort, Nordstr. 28, Phone: +49 211 9542397; Main courses 10–19 euros

The name of this restaurant with French-Italian-North African-style cuisine captures it in a nutshell. In the Mediterranean atmosphere of Restaurant Casa Gustosa it's really very tasty and tasteful, as the interior reveals. Not cluttered, instead harmoniously arranged – just like the menu, which includes the classic bouillabaisse along with freshly caught gilthead sea bream, lamb chops and pasta specialities. The head chef places particular importance on fresh, spontaneous cuisine and natural ingredients prepared à la minute. Because ultimately he strives to create the perfect flavour compositions to satisfy every palate's desire.

Gallo Nero: Bilk, Binterimstr. 27, Phone: +49 211 3179303; Main courses 11–23 euros

At first sight Gallo Nero (black rooster) looks quite purist. At second glance – at the latest when perusing the thick, leather-bound menu – it becomes very lush. The culinary success story: classic recipes and good products. Those who enjoy hand-made pasta with that special touch, together with a good drop of fine wine should take note of the address of Gallo Nero – alone in order to make a reservation well in advance. The black rooster has a passionate fan base.

Antiochia: Pempelfort, Duisburger Str. 16, telephone: +49 211 15945729; main courses 6–17 euros The Antiochia focuses particularly on the so-called mezes, cold and hot appetizers in Oriental cuisine. Anyone who can withstand this enticement – 21 cold and 13 hot mezes – at least a little, can expect spicy, grilled dishes with lots of Mediterranean herbs. To finish off, there is the lure of sugar-sweet baklava.

Principale Pizzabar: Flingern, Lindenstr. 66, Phone: +49 211 20070727; Main courses 6–17 euros Principale Pizzabar is a new alternative for friends of the Mediterranean kitchen. The slightly different aspect here: there are not only meals to suit the big appetite. The dishes listed under the category "Spuntini" indicate a snack which has little to do with a snack in the conventional sense. It actually involves little culinary treasures, which are very filling and, at the same time, gentle on the wallet. In the very pleasant environment it's almost a must that the patron still serves guests personally here.

Estia: Heerdt, Heerdtter Landstr. 245, telephone: +49 211 56925325; main courses 12–24 euros

This restaurant is named after the Greek goddess of the hearth fire and conviviality. Anyone who expects a traditional, somewhat bourgeois Greek restaurant, however, will get a pleasant surprise: instead of presenting statues of gods and other plaster decorations, the place features a modern, functional dining area. The menu also goes beyond traditional Greek cuisine; it takes its orientation from the variety on offer in the entire Mediterranean region. Hence it includes not only a wide selection of Greek appetizers, so-called "mezzedes", but always fresh grilled fish as served in Italy, Spain, or France, as well.

Sumptuous Asian expedition

Veatnam: Friedrichstadt, Bilker Allee 164, Phone: +49 211 83081358; Main courses 9–11 euros

To describe Veatnam in the best possible way, one needs to let the Veatnam team speak for itself: "Amidst the charming perfection of the imperfect, the spirit and soul of traditional Vietnamese cuisine can be found. The recipes for our Vietnamese delicacies have been passed down from generation to generation and we prepare them with a great deal of heart and soul in a traditional, local and authentic manner." Guests who would like to experience the street food flair of Asian food stalls are in the right place at Veatnam.

Benkay: im Hotel Nikko, Immermannstr. 41, Phone: +49 211 8342620; Main courses 12–139 euros

Düsseldorf has a good selection of Japanese restaurants. After all, the metropolis on the Rhine is home to one of the largest Japanese communities in Europe. The “Benkay”, in the Japanese four-star hotel “Nikko”, is a small Japanese cosmos and offers three restaurant areas in total: the “Fish corner” with sushi bar, Tatami rooms, where guests traditionally sit on the ground on rice straw mats, and a separate Teppanyaki grill area (incidentally the only one in Düsseldorf). Applicable to all: the dishes are very carefully and always freshly prepared.

Luang Prabang: Flingern, Platanenstr. 26, telephone: +49 211 2304275; main courses 7–16 euros

The Lao restaurant Luang Prabang is perfect for anyone who likes spicy hot food. Here there are dishes in all shades of hot, and the hottest call for a good deal of courage and a fireproof stomach. Apart from the aromas typical of Asian cuisine, such as ginger, coconut milk, and red curry, you will also obviously find the Lao national dish “larb” on the menu. This is minced meat served with finely chopped herbs, lemon grass, lemon leaves, galangal, chili, and onions. The Luang Prabang enjoys a reputation as a cult Asian restaurant, so an early reservation is advisable.

Meat-free dining

Sattgrün: Flingern, Hoffeldstr. 18, Phone: +49 211 68874080

This name is sure to make the hearts of all vegetarians and vegans beat a little faster. Sattgrün exclusively offers plant-based cuisine – cholesterol-, lactose- and additive-free to boot. There are no limits to the culinary creations that Sattgrün can offer. Whether Mediterranean or Asian – the gastronomic imagination knows no bounds here.

Kirti's Dhaba: Pempelfort, Düsselthaler Str. 1a, Phone: +49 211 8604202

Small restaurant – big variety. This is the best way to describe Kirti's Dhaba. The cuisine is Indian, guaranteed vegetarian – and offers tasty, meat-free and always affordable meals.

Fleischfrei: Oberbilk, Oberbilk Allee 256, Phone: +49 211 9847090

The name is the game at Fleischfrei (meat-free): vegan alternatives to meat, based on soya or seitan, are used in the preparation of the dishes. These are coupled exclusively with fresh ingredients, the majority of which come from the local region. The outcomes are a real feast for the eyes and palate: whether it's tahini or mango-chilli burger with sweet potato fries, a pizza with colourful grilled vegetables or tofu nuggets – Fleischfrei offers a wide range of delicious meat-free alternatives.

SchnellVeg: Pempelfort, Bagelstr. 130, Phone: +49 211 91184728

SchnellVeg has a clearly defined philosophy: it entices guests to stay a while and savour. Wholesome vegetarian-vegan cuisine, fresh and deliciously prepared dishes, as well as an informal spatial concept – this is how the operators describe their passion and profession. Travels through far-away lands have inspired the SchnellVeg team to try out new ideas and see the bigger picture. The outcome includes dishes like tarte flambée with homemade cashew “mozzarella” and further ingredients such as spicy harissa or fresh spinach and figs, crunchy polenta wedges or Siem Reap salad with pineapple and pepperoni.

Somehow different

Brasserie 1806: Königsallee 11, Breidenbacher Hof, Phone: +49 211 160900; Main courses 18–49 euros

Luxury at an affordable price. Surely there's no-one who doesn't want this. Brasserie 1806, located on Düsseldorf's legendary "Kö" avenue, makes this possible. The selection of dishes ranges from homemade fries in pseudo newspaper wrapping, to salad with Irish brown crab, right through to grilled dry-aged entrecôte – and naturally many other sumptuous pleasures which are too vast to list. Brasserie 1806 unites several trends. And the view of the rich and beautiful strolling along the glamorous "Kö" boulevard comes free to boot.

Butch Becker: Klosterstr. 24, telephone: +49 211 91386921; main courses 7–31 euros

Burger fans take note! The Butch Becker has a great deal to offer you. The varied menu features not only exotic creations, like the truffle burger, but also a number of vegetarian alternatives, such as a veggie burger made of wok vegetables and egg, and even a vegan barbecue. Another speciality of the Butch Becker is its homemade bread. The beef is processed fresh on site and comes either from the lower Rhine or the Eifel. It is supplied by Schlösser, a long-established Düsseldorf butcher's shop.

Mangold: Derendorf, Glockenstr. 20, telephone: +49 211 6006633; main courses 13–27 euros

The Mangold is a pert bar-restaurant that has something for every taste. The offering ranges from standard dishes like focaccia sandwiches and tarte flambée to salads up to filet of Argentine beef. Apart from an appealing wine list, which contains both German and Italian wines at reasonable prices, the Mangold also features a large variety of cocktails. This can make for a long evening!

Dorfstube: Oberkassel, Lanker Str. 2, telephone: +49 211 17152540; main courses 7–31 euros

The Black Forest right in the middle of Düsseldorf? To find it, just go to the Dorfstube, decorated in traditional, wood panelling from the region: Black Forest clocks, old-fashioned lamps and a huge tiled stove set the tone here. The wine list is international, offering not only a large selection of German white wines, but also Italian and French wines. The culinary focus is on southern German cuisine, so it is ideal for fans of cheese spätzle, roulades and farmhouse duck.

Late Night Düsseldorf

Whenever talk turns to Düsseldorf, it calls up associations with fashion, shopping, culture, lifestyle, and trade shows. But the birthplace of the German writer, poet, and journalist Heinrich Heine has much more to offer, is extraordinarily rich in leisure-time facilities and cultural programmes. Here you will find one bar, club, theatre and music venue after another, putting their stamp on the character of this metropolis on the Rhine. Whether fans of culture looking to spend a sophisticated evening or night owls who seek the pulsating night life, Düsseldorf has anything and everything on offer.

The best entertainment

An exclamation that applies to the Düsseldorf arts scene time and again. Big stages, intimate theatre, excellent artistry. On the boards that mirror the world outside, there is something to suit everyone.

Capitol Theater Düsseldorf, Erkrather Straße 30, 40233 Düsseldorf, Tel.: +49 211 7344-150, ticket hotline: +49 1805-2001

Whoever likes the theatre will love the Capital Theater. The largest theatre in Düsseldorf is a more than 100-year-old former tram depot. The special thing about it is that the original brickwork character and the former depot building were retained. Seating around 1,100 people in the large hall and 400 in the small hall, it is the largest theatre in the state capital of North Rhine-Westphalia. The Capitol Theater is known for top-class, exceptional entertainment in its musicals, comedies, shows and events.

Savoy Theater, Graf-Adolf-Straße 47, 40210 Düsseldorf, Tel.: +49 211 8308900

The Savoy Theater is a performing arts theatre in the heart of Düsseldorf, which has established itself here in the meantime as a solid cultural institution. The curtain regularly rises on comedy, cabaret, readings, concerts and smaller-scale performing arts. The programme of the theatre, which emanates the charming style of the 1950s, continually features well-known and versatile artists.

Kom(m)ödchen, Kay-und-Lore-Lorentz-Platz, 40213 Düsseldorf, Tel.: +49 211 329443

The Düsseldorf Kom(m)ödchen has undergone a long process of development. Founded in the back room of a bar in 1947, it today calls itself one of the most famous cabarets in Germany. Apart from its in-house ensemble, many big names of the German-language cabaret scene appear at the Kom(m)ödchen. The place values high-class entertainment and can accommodate 200 guests.

Apollo Variété, Apollo-Platz 1, 40213 Düsseldorf, Tel.: +49 211 8289090.

At the Apollo Variété the stage is open for the whole spectrum of fascinating artistry. Under the direction of the founder of Circus Roncalli, Bernhard Paul, Roncalli's Apollo Variété invites you to a show that is fantastic in every sense of the word, including magic, comedy, ballet and acrobatics. The theatre is regarded as one of the most beautiful vaudeville theatres in Europe and with 476 seats is the largest in Germany.

Chilling out very nicely

Chilling out essentially means recovering after exertion, relaxing. If you want to chill out in refined surroundings after a stressful day at the trade show, you will find way more than one unique opportunity in Düsseldorf, as the following small selection shows.

Et Kabüffke, Flinger Str. 1, 40213 Düsseldorf

Whoever would like to experience a symbiosis of tradition and cult should get to know Et Kabüffke. The small, quaint tasting room is an absolute highlight of Düsseldorf Old Town and for many the starting point of a night out. It attracts a mixed, colourful crowd. The many antiques create a captivating atmosphere.

KIT Kunst-im-Tunnel Café, Mannesmannufer 1b, 40213 Düsseldorf

The Kunst-im-Tunnel Café, KIT for short, on the bank of the Rhine in Düsseldorf, is an insider's tip. Here you can not only enjoy a cosy cocktail and fine food, but there are also regularly changing exhibitions in the subterranean art room. If you are lucky, you will be there at the right time to enjoy live music. The KIT, namely, is a popular venue for live concerts.

Chillout – cocktail bar, lounge, restaurant, Bolkestr. 15, 40215 Düsseldorf

Here the name says it all. Flavoursome cocktails, tasty shishas and a wide variety of food await the guests and provide for an enjoyable stay. The rooms and the design are also pleasant: from the upstairs gallery you can see the bar, and there is a sky full of twinkling stars on the ceiling.

Schlösser Quartier Bohème, Ratinger Str. 25, 40213 Düsseldorf

A real institution in Düsseldorf nightlife - all the same it is not easy to define Schlösser Quartier Bohème: it is restaurant, bar, lounge, event location, club and venue for cultural events all in one. Whether you come for a cool glass of Schlösser Alt from the tap, to enjoy homecooked German cooking or dishes from Alsace or simply to chill out – Schlösser Quartier Bohème appeals to young and old.

On 10 November, the press brunch of the Choice Group took place at the JCK headquarters in Quakenbrück. The “Choice affiliate companies” are the six subsidiaries of JCK Holding: Gustav Daiber, Fare, Halfar, Karlowsky Fashion, mbw and SND. The informative event was designed to give a selected audience of distributors and representatives of the press an insight into the numerous product innovations of the Group.

Press brunch of the Choice affiliate companies

Good prospects for 2017

The Choice Group invited their guests to show them their numerous product innovations.

Even at the reception, there was a lot to discover this time. The impressive variety of colour nuances that the customer has in his choice of products is impressive. Customers could move through green, yellow, red, blue and black product worlds, leaving virtually nothing to be desired. In the showroom, they could then enjoy the highly anticipated collections for 2017.

Enjoy the rain

At Fare Schirmwerk, everything revolves around the weather. And the forecasts for the new season look fabulous! “Enjoy the rain” is the motto here. The multi-award-winning product range, designed with loving attention to detail and know-how, shows once again that the specialist for promotional umbrellas understands the market and offers innovative products for every requirement. Whether it be over-size umbrellas with an integrated LED projection lamp, models in sporty design, or the AOC mini pocket umbrella Genie-Magic 2.0, which supersedes its successful predecessors with new materials and new technology – systematically expanding its own range is routine at Fare.

Bags for various target groups

Halfar is paving the way for great looks and presenting lots of new eye-catchers in 2017. From the gold-shimmering shopper to hip bags with drawstring and the functional business backpack, the promotional bag expert from Bielefeld will be offering fashionable and practical companions for various target groups in the new year. But Halfar not only follows trends, it also expands its spectrum of materials, processing, colour diversity and size. Halfar is answering the growing demand for naturalness and sustainability with new products made of canvas, jute and cotton. With its new “Organic” series, Halfar also has a simple, classic shopper as well as a bag with drawstring made of organic cotton.

Looks with style

The Gustav Daiber collections from James & Nicholson and myrtle beach will also be combining many positive impressions into a convincing whole in 2017. The looks of the two brands are just bursting with vitality. With lots of passion and more than 110 years of experience, the collections are ideally suited to the requirements placed on textile articles for event and incentive equipment, corporate fashion and promotion. Whether it be chic business looks, lightweight promo jackets, jackets for cool city styles such as the new padded or lightweight down jackets, hybrid sweat jackets or softshell vests and jackets with zip-off sleeves – no wishes remain unfulfilled. The fact that a sense of responsibility in the fashion sector does not have to be at the expense of aesthetics is evidenced by a glance at the organic cotton collection. T-shirts in fashionable cuts from slim to casual and in fresh colours confirm that attractive styles and organic cotton are not mutually exclusive. Other highlights are the accessories from myrtle beach. The range of beanies, scarves, shawls, caps and hats has also been extended to include many new articles.

Workwear for kitchen professionals

Karlowsky Fashion has the recipe for a successful 2017: know-how, a good nose for trends, innovation and passion. The in-house brands Karlowsky Pure, Karlowsky Passion, Karlowsky andmore, Diamond Cut and Rock Chef combine passionate and individual designs with the highest quality standards. The collections in the jubilee year 2017 – Karlowsky is already looking back on a 125-year-old tradition – make all those who are at home in the nation's kitchens yearn for fashion workwear. The Basic bistro apron from the Karlowsky collection, for instance, has always impressed thanks to its classic and timeless design. The previous colour palette has now been extended to include the trend colours anthracite, red and navy. A special highlight is the new Basic pinafore. This is available with an adjustable bib and optionally also with a bag. A wide range of colours and an exceptionally soft fabric are only two of its many features. For professionals of good taste who value individual design, the Rock Chef line is a good choice. From now on, new matching boots with elaborate details are also available.

Sweet and cuddly

mbw predicts a cuddly, soft and colourful 2017. Under the claim "likeable", mbw is promoting its big and small helpers which sweeten and simplify everyday life. In the varied product selection of mbw, "likeable" is routine because you simply must adore the charming new products. The Schnabels, the cheeky, yellow rubber ducks, have new members in the family and are available in many new looks. The practical Schmoozies also boast new characters which, like their relatives, ensure clean tablets and smartphones. Plush pen holders that ensure a tidy desk are now available in three versions. Funny, practical and likeable, the workday begins with a smile and even the little ones look forward to doing their homework. The cuddly plush novelties from mbw are really likeable. Sharks and raccoons, for example, complement the already large range.

Versatile porcelain

lain products in its assortment, thus underlining the versatility of the material. The focus this year will be on porcelain products "revolving around the cup", such as muesli, fruit and salad bowls or light-protected storage boxes. The new faces of the "Emotiontassen" series will put you in a particularly good mood each day. Charming, cheeky and sweet – this series conjures up a smile each morning.

Laboratory visit

Another highlight of the event was the exciting tour of the Labtech laboratory, which is also located at the JCK headquarters. The independent and accredited laboratory is used for chemical and physical tests. Interested guests were able to look over the shoulder of the managing director of Labtech, Thomas Hülsmann, and his team while they tested products from the Choice range.

Karl Knauer KG was presented with the “Print and Media Award” as the vocational training company of the year and as the socially committed printing company of the year. The company was also nominated in the category of environmentally oriented company of the year 2016.

Karl Knauer KG successful

Winner of two awards

Industry

Karl Knauer KG offers traineeship positions in no fewer than 13 different professions and four dual work-study courses..

The packaging specialist has already received four Print and Media Awards in the last four years and has repeatedly been one of the finalists. Karl Knauer KG offers traineeship positions in no fewer than 13 different professions and four dual work-study courses. The reason for this is: “We train our own specialists and occupy a leading position in the medium-sized printing and packaging industry with a 10 per cent training quota”, explains Richard Kammerer, managing partner and spokesperson of the management of Karl Knauer KG.

Social responsibility for trainees

In order to attract motivated and committed trainees, the company presents itself on numerous channels, including professional information fairs, in the social media including Facebook and YouTube, as well as at information days at Karl Knauer KG. In addition, “training ambassadors”, i.e. young people currently in training, present their occupations to school classes. Many other activities such as internships and participation at fictitious companies complete the offer. The following fact is also motivating for dedicated training: most trainees are taken on directly after successful completion of their traineeship.

“Impressively different”

“Karl Knauer KG focuses on people”, says Richard Kammerer. According to our slogan, we want to be “impressively different” in developing our employees. The company has pursued this objective for several years with various offers for all employees. In addition to annual employee meetings, ergonomically designed workplaces and various health management services, sports groups and further training courses are also part of the comprehensive portfolio offerred by Karl Knauer KG. The “Fliegerkiste” day care centre is particularly exemplary. Together with Hydro Systems AG and the municipality of Biberach, this was established five years ago and now offers 40 places for children from six months of age up to school enrolment. Qualified specialists take care of the next generation; supplementary offers such as a bilingual orientation complete the support portfolio. The project has already received several awards.

The Print and Media Awards

Since 2005, the Print and Media Awards have been presented annually by Deutsche Drucker Verlagsgesellschaft in Berlin. Companies in the industry which have distinguished themselves through outstanding achievements are recognised. This year, people, teams and companies received awards in 25 categories.

Innovative packaging and promotional materials

The core competencies of Karl Knauer KG are innovative packaging and promotional materials, as well as gift packaging made of cardboard, corrugated board and paper. The company is one of the leading suppliers in the field of packaging with its exceptionally broad range of services and production concerning the folding box. Customers from the branded goods and services sector throughout Europe benefit from the diverse expertise and impressively large production depth.

Wide choice of qualities

“In consultation with our customers, our experts develop designs that meet all requirements for packaging – from protection, security and attractive presentation at the POS. Karl Knauer offers specialized ranges with state-of-the-art packaging technologies: cosmetics and care, blister cards, pharmaceuticals & health, environment and nature, agriculture and food, beverages, home and industry as well as mechanical engineering. In addition, we intensively research innovations for the packaging requirements of the future. Whether it be in the areas of convenience, product safety, forgery protection, finishing technologies or efficiency and sustainability”, says Richard Kammerer, describing the company’s wide-ranging qualities. < viscom, the international trade show for visual communication, took place at the Frankfurt Exhibition Grounds from 2 to 4 November. A total of 307 exhibitors from 29 nations attended the event which celebrated its thirtieth anniversary this year. Once again viscom showed that it is an important platform for innovation, inspiration and information – and also provides impulses for new success stories.

Trade show for visual communication

viscom 2016: Innovation, Inspiration, Information

Founded 30 years ago as a meeting place for advertising technology, lighting advertising and textile finishing, the trade show has developed in the course of technological development in digital printing and the digital revolution in visual communication into a world-class event that combines both worlds under the motto “we connect”. With a total of 9,144 trade visitors, viscom remained below last year’s level (10,064) due to the strong trade show year with drupa which takes place every four years. However, it did manage to offset these statistics with an international approach: visitors from 71 nations came to this year’s viscom. Apart from the core Western European countries, visitors from Eastern Europe and Scandinavia were well represented. Non-European customers – especially from the USA, Japan and the Arab world – were also represented above-average with a share of almost ten per cent of foreign visitors. The fact that even a longer journey is worthwhile was underlined by a visitor from South Africa: “viscom particularly impresses with technical innovations. This year, machine innovations in the areas of laser cutting and text printing are the top priority for me.”

Advertising practice meets visual brand communication viscom is now also becoming more and more interesting in the field of interior design, as a visitor from France confirmed: “We had a lot of advertising and communication agencies, shopfitters, decorators and designers at our stand. Several visitors even approached us with very concrete projects. We are planning the ceiling design in two shops. “viscom director Petra Lassahn, who has been managing the trade show since 2006: “Whether it is a digitally printed large format, a textile advertising banner, a display at the POS, high-quality print-enhanced packaging or a virtually staged product presentation – viscom impressively brings together advertising practice and the world of visual brand communication under one roof. “The focus is on technical innovations in digital printing, creative inspiration and information transfer in knowledge formats and workshops. This market transparency met with a very good response from the trade visitors. “As a representative of the printing industry, including digital and 3D printing, the viscom is the networking platform par excellence for me. I do not have to travel around the world, but can meet all the important contacts at the trade show under one roof”, was one of many positive comments.

Investment and impulses

The willingness of companies to invest was enormous. This is confirmed by the results of a representative visitor survey carried out by an independent market research company. According to this survey, half of all visitors came to the viscom with concrete investment plans – 30 per cent of them with a budget of more than 50,000 euros, almost 15 per cent with a budget of more than 200,000 euros. The viscom is also regarded as a source of inspiration for fresh ideas, as many visitors confirmed: “The inspirations we take back from the viscom enable us to give our customers good advice”, was a typical statement. The hot spot was again the viscom “world of inspiration”. The special area offered companies an additional opportunity to exhibit technologies, products and services – from processes to materials and designs to the final product. With match-making events, the designers’ meeting point and Lunch & Learn, the area was the place for networking and knowledge transfer. A total of 96 lectures gave an insight into the trends of the industry. Another highlight was the special show space called “Superstar”, which featured the more than 80 exhibits nominated for the industry award of the same name. The awards were presented in the Europa Hall at the Frankfurt Exhibition Grounds on the evening of 3 November.

The special show space “Superstar” was one of the highlights.

Some key facts on viscom

For the past 30 years, viscom, the international trade show for visual communication, has been taking place annually, alternating between Düsseldorf and Frankfurt, and has played an important role in the development of the industry. The viscom is actually two trade shows under one roof: the viscom SIGN and the viscom POS. As a package, they create synergies and form the most important annual meeting place for the visual communications industries in the European advertising market. Viscom covers the entire value-added chain of technologies, processes and materials up to the latest applications at the point of sale.

For the fifth time, the Polish promotional products association PIAP examined the effect of promotional products on end customers. The main findings of the study: Promotional products have caught up with the Internet, quality plays a decisive role, and over 90 per cent of respondents use promotional products to improve their brand image.

Study carefully examines customer behaviour

Promotional products gain strength

Regular studies help to identify trends. And these are constantly changing, as we have seen," says Katarzyna Wojniak of PIAP, explaining the decision of the Polish association to conduct a survey for the fifth time. After all, the results of these studies support the association members when taking strategic decisions. "The results are somewhat like a compass and are thus incredibly important and trend-setting," she adds. Knowing the impact of promotional products is a key factor when it comes to assessing the development of the market and its future.

Robust advertising budget

First of all, the crucial message for suppliers and distributors of promotional products: Advertising expenditure is increasing. This was stated by 60 per cent of companies. Fewer than 6 per cent spoke of a decline. The fact that the amount of budget for below-the-line activities (such as promotional products, loyalty programs, printed matter) differs can be attributed to the heterogeneous recipient group. Around 18 per cent reported that their 2016 budget for below-the-line marketing is more than 100,000 Zloty (25,000 euros), 20 per cent 20,000 to 50,000 Zloty (5,000 to 12,500 euros) and almost every fourth marketer interviewed (22.86 per cent) can spend between 10,000 and 20,000 Zloty (2,500 to 5,000 euros).

Caught up to Internet

Thanks to its favourable price-effectiveness ratio, the Internet has triumphed in the marketing budget until now. Last year, no fewer than 63.41 percent of respondents called the World Wide Web the dominant media in their marketing mix. 2016 has now brought an enormous breakthrough: Promotional products have caught up with the Internet in terms of the price-effectiveness ratio, at least when it comes to the choice of marketers. 37.14 per cent of the budget managers considered promotional products to be the most effective and cheapest marketing tool. Just as many still saw the Internet in this role. The balanced ratio shows that a turnaround has been accomplished. In the overall assessment, promotional products have also benefitted from an upturn in terms of effectiveness: 82.86 per cent of marketers (previous year: 70.73 per cent) particularly value this aspect. 91.43 per cent of respondents actually use promotional products to have a positive effect on their corporate image. In 2015, there were just under 83 per cent. This represents a significant increase in acceptance.

Quality decides

In the past, last-minute orders have proven to be a real problem for the advertising industry. It is now all the more gratifying that three-quarters of respondents said they order promotional products in advance. It was also found that the reasons for choosing a promotional product have changed. When asked what criteria are decisive (multiple answers were possible), some 72 per cent claimed quality is a key factor. 57.14 per cent underlined the importance of both appearance and functionality, just over half (51.14 per cent) said the price is important. This factor was crucial just two years ago.

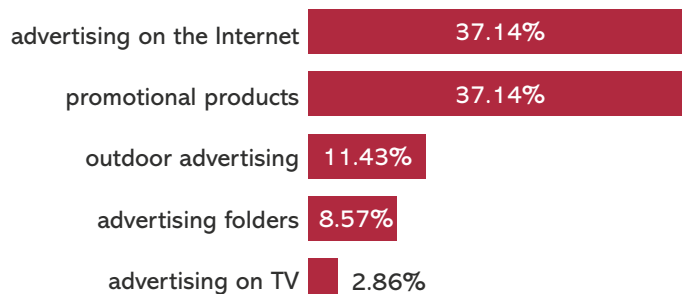

Purchasing behaviour of end customers

End customers usually choose bags, office supplies and calendars as promotional products. Christmas, trade shows and the desire to recognise business partners were mentioned as reasons. While 54.29 per cent of marketers prefer Polish products, more than a third expressed that the origin is irrelevant. The study found that the promotional products industry should invest in the Internet as a distribution channel. This is where end customers mainly search for offers, recommendations and catalogues. <

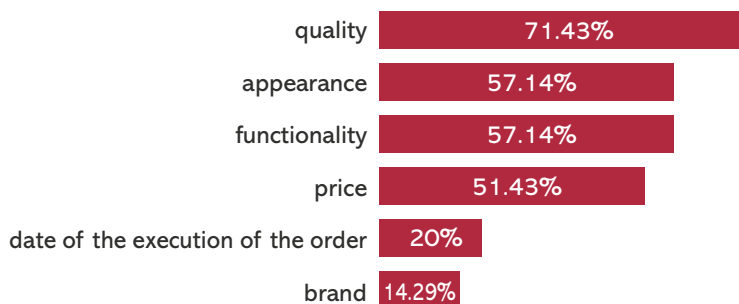

PIAP Study

The study was conducted online with 350 recipients. The target group consisted of end customers and, in particular, the managers of customer service departments as well as budget managers at small, medium-sized and large companies.

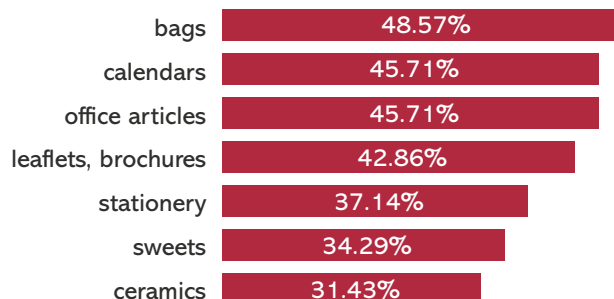

The most effective and, at the same time, the cheapest advertising medium, according to your assessment, is:

PSI traditionally opens its doors at the beginning of each year. Numerous events make the trade show even more colourful and vibrant. Among other things, the PSI is giving away 10,000 refreshing PET bottles of water to visitors. This gives us reason to examine the current situation concerning the deposit on single-use containers.

In focus

Note the bottle deposit

Correct and exemplary: The water bottles distributed by PSI at the trade show are recognizable as recyclable PET deposit bottles that feature the DPG logo.

The 10,000 bottles distributed by the PSI are sponsored by the exhibitor Sanders Imagetools. PSI pays the deposit and the bottles are, of course, correctly marked with the logo of the German Pfandgesellschaft (DPG) as single-use bottles subject to deposit. This not only identifies the products as duly manufactured and purchased, but also as recyclable and hence sustainable products. The PSI Journal reported on this topic just eight years ago, when the deposit for disposable PET bottles was introduced in Germany. It is time to review what has happened since then.

Waste reduced – recycling promoted

The objective of the Packaging Ordinance, which also regulates the deposit for PET bottles, is to avoid or reduce the effects of packaging waste on the environment. Disposable drinks now have a return rate of more than 95 per cent. Thus, the valuable raw materials are reliably recy-clad and reused. Articles with normal recycling (e.g. green dot) do not nearly achieve such values. The rate proves the purpose and enormous success of the decision to introduce the deposit on single-use containers.

PET transports a positive image

This success story also meets with approval amongst many parts of the population and gives the deposit on single-use containers an absolutely positive image. Companies that use beverages in PET bottles as promotional products benefit from this positive image. In addition, the products have a double effect: the recipient remembers the advertising company twice: first when he receives it and then again when he disposes of the bottle in a reverse vending machine and receives a 25 cent “reward” paid in cash.

Beware of “deposit-free”

However, distributors and industry customers must also exercise care: PET bottles which are correctly labelled according to the Packaging Ordinance bear the symbol of the DPG (Deutsche Pfandgesellschaft). This centrally regulates the flow of raw materials as well as deposits for all market participants. Especially on the Internet, there are more and more offers from dubious vendors that offer bottled water from abroad as “deposit-free”. These bottles may not be marketed in Germany – contrary to rumours, not as a complimentary gift either. The foreign supplier is not affected by the German Packaging Ordinance. But those who order the bottles and have them delivered to Germany risk severe penalties and all sorts of trouble. As cases show in the past, penalties amounting to several tens of thousands of euros have already been imposed. Therefore, if you distribute PET bottles, you should always ensure that they are marked with the logo of the DPG (shown on this page). The promotional product thus gets a clean, reputable image to the delight of distributors and industry customers, and especially the environment! <

Entrepreneurial crises are a creeping process. It is therefore all the more important for companies to detect the signs and to initiate appropriate counter measures. Reliable partners in this connection are tax consultants and auditors whose recommendations should be taken seriously. Whoever acts early has a clear advantage.

Recognize the signs and act in time

Company crises develop gradually

For a number of quite different reasons, owners and managers of small and medium-sized enterprises wrongly tend to perceive or accept a corporate crisis only when an existential threat is imminent. It is only when the tax consultant repeatedly points out the worsening economic situation, banks cut credit lines, good employees leave the company, the supply of capital becomes increasingly crucial because of a lack of liquidity and, subsequently, the initial delivery problems arise. Especially in the case of companies where the process of succession is still pending, a crisis generally has an even stronger impact. This is because flexible solutions and fast innovations are not among the core strengths.

Late insight

Once a waiting attitude can no longer conceal existing problems, decisions must be made – usually unpopular ones. However, as the conditions continue to deteriorate, the entrepreneur is barely able to act on his own. At this point, he must spend a large part of his working time on ensuring the liquidity of his company and appealing to suppliers. He may also have to talk with the staff about the next salary payments and keep nervous customers happy. By now the management staff realise that only restructuring can save the company. However, the first step of the company's management is to undertake the recommendations made by tax consultants and auditors a long time ago. However, as they were made at a time when the entrepreneur was still able to make decisions without any restrictions, they are now hardly effective in the acute crisis.

Banks expect good concepts

In order to economically lead a crisis-ridden enterprise back on a healthy path, the bank is initially the right contact. In the absence of sufficient liquidity to carry on the business at least provisionally, the entrepreneur takes the view that the bank must lend a helping hand. In fact, the borrower's bank is already well aware of the economic downturn of the company, as the submitted financial statements and business evaluations speak a clear language. The bank now expects a plausible company concept which is intended to produce measures for cost reduction, sales and earnings expansion as well as a corresponding implementation timetable. Gone are the days, however, when the bank could be presented with a 600-page report with numerous tables. The employees of the transaction management department or the already active "Special credit department" now expect realistic and plausible concepts which must be underpinned by market data, forecasts and generally accepted statements. By now it will be difficult for the entrepreneur as the borrower's bank expects an assessment of the restructuring plans by an independent company consultant and an industry expert – in the form of a concept or even an expert's report. The consequence for the entrepreneur: Outsiders can scrutinise his business!

Missed opportunities – squandered confidence

Everything is now put on the table. Every now and then a competitor had expressed his desire through the specialists of a mergers & acquisitions company (M&A) to acquire an interest in the company or even to acquire it. However, discussions never took place because approaches by the M&A specialists were rejected. Changes to the operational procedures were never an issue as everything had worked smoothly in the past. And most recently, the warnings of the tax consultant or auditor always went unheeded. It is also noticeable that the trust of many suppliers is exhausted, and that they then changed the payment modalities to the detriment of the economically struggling company. Behind the scenes, the entrepreneur learns that the suppliers no longer believe that he can achieve a turnaround. And the staff are also sceptical.

A question of value

It seems that word has gotten around in the industry that the company is struggling with enormous difficulties. More and more inquiries are now being received from self-declared experts who want to help the company. A renowned M&A company has approached the entrepreneur through the tax consultant to sound out the sales opportunities once again. While the company consultant works together with the tax consultant on a concept, the M&A specialists find that the value of the company only exists in existing customer relationships. However, these are becoming progressively weaker. Machine and plant assets are now cheaper to procure in the marketplace and are no longer technically state of the art. The staff turnover in the company has not escaped the attention of the M&A specialists either. The company is also losing "values" such as contacts and specialist expertise. The M&A specialists naturally point out that there are already interested parties who want to take over the company. However, they are successful entrepreneurs who know precisely the value (and the plight) of the company.

If a crisis hits your business, it is crucial to act fast.

The opposite is achieved

The entrepreneur no longer knows how to react. The liquidity situation is so strained that the tax consultant brings an "insolvency examination" into play. As the company's accounting and controlling activities had been very rudimentary in the past, however, many documents which are required by the bank or the consultants still need to be finalised. The relationship between the entrepreneur and the consultants, however, has not improved. He still has his doubts as to whether external experts can really help him. An initial assessment, which also includes a restructuring concept, promises little. The company consultant explains that the company has not been investing for years. The subsequent calculation shows that the product produced is much too expensive. In addition, the audit reveals that sales were regularly not covering costs in order to generate revenues. Whether or not the bank provides further funds in these circumstances is more than doubtful now. The consultant also cautiously hints that the entire management of the company breathes the spirit of the 1950s and 1960s. The consultant thus achieves the exact opposite of what he wanted to communicate.

Help comes too late

Tax consultants and business advisers agree that a competent scrutiny of the company and the measures derived from it should have been carried out about five years earlier. The tax consultant had regularly suggested this to the entrepreneur in the past. There are corresponding records in his hand-written file. However, the entrepreneur was certain that the economic situation and the entire commented ideas and suggestions for improvements from employees from lower decision-making levels. As everything went well, this was simply not necessary. What the entrepreneur does not know at this stage: The bank has already told the company consultant that a continuation of the business with him at the top is not desired. By the time the restructuring concept is presented, the bank will make it clear that its confidence in the entrepreneur is exhausted. This is exactly what the entrepreneur refuses to accept: All parties do not consider him to be competent enough to find a way out of the crisis.

The end: Insolvency

Deeply affected by the statements of his advisors and his bank, the disappointed entrepreneur angrily withdraws. He is not willing to make the required changes. By now, the first applications for insolvency are announced by the creditors, which can cause a disregard for the poor economic situation. If the analyses, the proposed measures and their implementation had been carried out two years previously together with the specialists, the restructuring with the involved partners, the customers and the employees would have been possible without any problems.

pany situation would improve without great changes. Consequently, no measures were taken to restructure the company. Many German entrepreneurs want to have nothing to do with bringing external consultants into the company. They would only conclude that many things would have to be done differently or better! The cost of external specialists is also an obstacle, especially as entrepreneurs are often of the opinion that such matters are best dealt with by an experienced entrepreneur himself.

Company management according to the lord of the manor approach

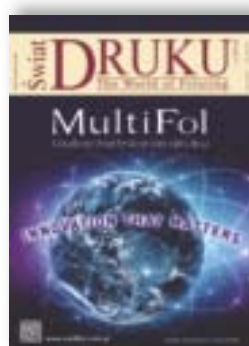

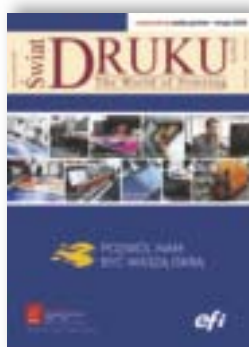

By now the long-established management style has also contributed to the disastrous course of events. An entrepreneur in the third family generation has adopted the mentality that he is the sole decision-maker. As a rule, the highly hierarchically organised company has never imple-

Search engine and email marketing are on the rise, while event marketing is becoming less important. These are key findings of the current study “Digital Marketing Trends 2016” by Dr. Torsten Schwarz, head of the expert group Online Marketing of Verband der Internetwirtschaft e. V. (eco).

Verband der Internetwirtschaft e. V.

Digital marketing trends in 2016

For the report, 172 experts were surveyed on the distribution of their online budget and the importance of online and mobile issues in their companies. 46 per cent of respondents expect an increase in budgets for search engine and email marketing, 44 per cent expect budget increases for data-driven marketing, 41 per cent for social media marketing. Mobile marketing, often referred to as a hype, can expect a higher budget (36 per cent) in more than a third of all companies.

Event marketing on the decline

According to the survey, event marketing must expect a drastic limitation of financial resources: 15 per cent of respondents expect cuts, another 21 per cent will be spending no money on this. There is also a limit to expenditure with social media: 45 per cent do not want to expand their budget, at least 5 per cent are planning cuts. Incidentally, public relations recorded the most stable budget: More than three quarters (76 per cent) of companies want to simply “leave everything as it is” in this classic field of communications.

Half of the budget remains unchanged

Across all communication channels, a third (34 per cent) of respondents expect increasing marketing budgets this year. Just over half (51 per cent) expect an unchanged continuation of last year's budget. Only 5 per cent are planning a reduction. A result that one can call quite satisfying.

Content marketing at the forefront

More than three quarters (77 per cent) of the companies rank content marketing high on their agenda for online marketing. Following close behind (70 per cent) is system integration, i.e. the networking of all systems to ensure the best possible control flow. According to the eco study, ranking among the other places are customer journey (64 per cent), personalisation (61 per cent), conversion optimisation (59 per cent), moving image and video advertising (54 per cent) and lead generation (53 per cent). Less in demand are real-time marketing (24 per cent), messaging and Internet of things (20 per cent) and programmatic advertising (15 per cent). Often praised, but last in the comparison of marketing topics, is virtual reality (10 per cent).

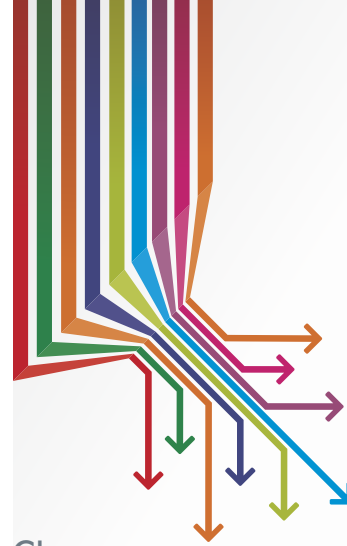

Responsive design is of great importance

By contrast, responsive design is right at the front on the scale of importance: for 87 per cent in the case of the website, for 80 per cent in the case of emails. Multi-device user tracking is considered important by 56 per cent of respondents. Mobile advertising is important for 44 per cent of respondents, a proprietary app for 39 per cent. Less interesting is apparently the integration of location-based content in real time (26 per cent). Trailing far behind is optimisation for a smartwatch – only 5 per cent of respondents currently consider communication on the wrist to be of importance.

Supposed marketing stars not so relevant

The supposed stars of modern online marketing such as mobile and social media are obviously considered not as relevant as perhaps suspected. In point of fact, the fastest growing channels are search engine, e-mail and data-driven marketing. And content marketing still represents an important issue: Over three quarters of respondents have it on their agenda this year. <

Glossary

Online marketing terms

Customer journey

The individual phases which a customer passes through before he decides to purchase a product. From the perspective of marketing, customer journey refers to all points of contact (touch points) of a consumer with a brand, a product or service. These include not only the direct interaction points between customers and companies (advertisement, commercial, website, etc.), but also the indirect contact points at which the opinion of third parties about a brand, a product or service is obtained (review portals, user forum, blog, etc.)

Data-driven marketing

Data-driven marketing refers to the use of knowledge from databases that is useful for decision-making in the course of selling products and services and the marketing of brands. This includes demographic data, as well as behavioural information, for example on purchasing behaviour.

Conversion

Conversion refers to a defined process in online marketing in which the visitor to a website is guided from a simple visit to the website to a concrete action. A classic example is conversion, for example, a purchase, a download or sending an application for a newsletter. A sub-discipline in the SEO or online marketing is conversion rate optimisation. By using conversion optimisation, marketers can better understand success and scale future actions more easily.

Internet of things

Internet of things refers to linking uniquely identifiable physical objects (things) with a virtual representation in an Internet-like structure.

Programmatic marketing

All marketing activities, their implementation, control and execution are based on algorithms and automated rules.

Source: OnPageWiki, digital marketing lexicon

In a recent GfK study, only four per cent of the surveyed B2B decision makers consider the design guidelines of their company to be relevant. A result that should arouse the attention of promotional product consultants because this opens up a potential consulting field which may also extend beyond the design of promotional products and their inclusion in campaigns.

B2B companies

Little understanding of corporate design

It is often only presentations designed professionally by external companies that make companies aware of the relevance of corporate design.

According to B2B decision makers in Germany, successful presentations are mainly distinguished by a transparent and clear structure as well as by relevant content. By contrast, the utilisation of corporate design plays a very minor role. These were the results of a GfK study commissioned by K16. 450 B2B decision makers in Germany, primarily in the areas of sales and marketing, were interviewed on the topic of presentations, cross-media campaigns and storytelling.

Uniform appearance important

The disregard of corporate design-compliant design is surprising, particularly as presentations are used both in sales and in customer acquisition as well as at high-profile trade shows – i.e. on occasions when the focus is entirely on their own company. Especially in such situations, the company should be presented as a single entity through the accurate and systematic implementation of the corporate design. After all, for almost three quarters of German B2B companies, presentations continue to be the most important channel for transmitting content and messages. A uniform appearance is therefore of utmost relevance for developing and maintaining brands. Applied correctly, a corporate design provides structure and shape and does not prevent layouts that are appropriate for the company. A corporate design can also serve as a basis for a Power-Point template. Such a template guarantees that only the correct fonts and corporate-compliant colours and elements are used. In conjunction with frequently used standard transparencies in the background, it also saves time when creating presentations.

Support from professionals sharpens awareness

In second place following the topic of structure, the biggest challenge in creating presentations is achieving a coherent and uniform overall appearance. The utilisation of the corporate design, however, ranks last with 5 per cent. The possibility to create uniform presentations appropriate for the company by using design guidelines is thus still often overlooked. External agencies are commissioned especially for demanding presentations. The support provided by professionals also significantly sharpens the understanding of the relevance of corporate compliance. Almost nine per cent of companies receiving external support see the application of corporate design as the key success factor of a presentation - more than twice as many as those without support. External support also ensures a significantly greater satisfaction in transmitting messages, choosing the right tools and general satisfaction with presentations. Overall, 97 per cent of companies are satisfied with their support, more than one in five are even extremely happy. These results can definitely be seen as a signal for the promotional products industry to position themselves also as a competent service provider for corporate design. <

Haptics and high-tech

Siplast has been developing customised plastic products for the promotional product market since 1960. The spectrum ranges from ring binders, staplers and folders to identification articles, printing supplies and much more. The Kreuztal-based company regularly creates its own products, including protective covers for cards and documents with radio chip such as credit cards and passports, the effectiveness of which is also certified by TÜV. As day-to-day companions, office articles are particularly suitable for haptic advertising. Special finishes and impressive print designs set the tone in this area.

Schneider, one of the world's leading manufacturers of ballpoint pens and writing instruments, combines the values of a traditional brand with those of a modern, responsible company. Since 1960, the owner-managed family enterprise has also been supplying the promotional product market with quality writing instruments made in Germany.

Schneider: Write it

Great brand for a great impact

The headquarters is located in the idyllic town of Schramberg-Tennenbronn. The Schneider family has its roots in this area and has integrated the company into nature in an exemplarily and environmentally friendly manner.

The year 2016 was a very special one for the company founded by Christian Schneider in 1938: Schneider was recognized by the renowned publisher "Deutsche Standards" as the brand of the century in the area of ballpoint pens. Brand experts of the publisher Dr. Florian Langenscheidt acknowledged Schneider with a company portrait in the encyclopaedia "Stars 2016". Schneider thus belongs to the exclusive circle of the strongest brands in Germany and takes its place alongside valuable labels including Haribo, Ritter Sport, Tempo and others. This award is not only the deserved recognition of a future-oriented, exemplarily managed company actively committed to the environment, but also a tribute to writing itself.

Headquarters in the Black Forest

The heart and soul of the company can be found at the headquarters in Tennenbronn in the Black Forest. The ever-expanding and now multi-storey buildings with photovoltaic installations are located here in the Schiltach valley region. The river flows through the company premises, is partly overbuilt and is used as a source of cooling water. A total of 362 employees work in development, laboratory, design engineering, toolmaking, production, marketing, sales, purchasing and administration. Environmental responsibility has always been a major concern for the owner family Schneider, especially since not only the headquarters but also the Wernigerode site (in the Harz Mountains) is located in recreation areas. In Wernigerode, a total of 122 employees work on the advanced development of controller technology and the production of writing instruments based thereon. At both locations, extensive measures ensure the environmentally compatible integration of the production sites into nature. Schneider Novus Vertriebs GmbH in the Bavarian town of Weilheim serves as a distribution and logistics centre and employs another 83 people.

The machine park is state-of-the-art. Recently, investments were made in 26 new, energy-saving injection moulding machines.

Family business in the third generation

Today, the management of the family business lies in the hands of Christian Schneider, grandson of the company founder of the same name (production, purchasing, personnel and finance), as well as Frank Groß (marketing and sales). Roland Schneider, who had taken over the company from his father in 1978, is also a member of the management board and is still active in various projects. In addition to Christian Schneider, his three siblings are also more or less involved in the company. Martina Schneider has been responsible for the press and public relations work for four years and also assumes tasks relating to marketing and exhibiting at trade shows. Although she in-

Schneider is distinguished by an exceptionally high in-house production depth. Here, fibre rods are manufactured for producing ink feeders.

Almost half a million euros has been invested in a brand new cutting-edge technology: A new room, additional machines and qualified personnel with a great deal of know-how – from the fully functional prototype to series production.

initially had other plans, she is now glad to be involved. We got to know her as a versed guide with in-depth knowledge who explained even the most complex processes in production and gave a lasting company's impression.

Extensive range: pens for everyone

Timeless, individual and unique – handwriting is a part of our culture that continues to outlast the digital world. The claim "Schneider: Write it" embraces this observation and continues with the maxim "Every thought is worth being written down." Schneider derives its commitment to everyday products from this. The fact that everyone can put his thoughts onto paper in any situation in his own way with Schneider pens is never a problem thanks to the company's diverse product portfolio. After initially producing only ballpoint pen refills since 1950, the company now provides a full range of writing instruments. Ballpoint pens (standard and slider), ballpoint pen refills, gel pens, fountain pens and cartridge rollerballs for students and adults, rollerballs with free-ink control technology or fibre storage, fineliners and fibre pens, various markers (permanent, whiteboard/flipchart, OHP, varnish and special markers), text markers and retractable pencils. Many ballpoint pen models feature a universal fit for different refill formats thanks to the Plug+Play system. This makes it easy to change refills.

Flagship Viscoglide® technology

An important milestone was the development of Viscoglide® technology which has been providing exceptionally easy, gliding writing in the Slider series since 2006. The elaborate development phase lasting several years has paid off: the wide-tip ballpoint pen quickly assumed a leading position among the most popular and best-selling Schneider pens thanks to the fact that it writes extremely smoothly and can be used for an extremely long time. In 2011, the range was complemented to include XB valve tips for change-over refills with Viscoglide® technology. Slider ballpoint pens feature an easy-flowing stroke, a quick-start without prior rubbing and, thanks to the XB tip, also colour-intensive and striking fonts. Schneider offers the entire Slider series and the promotional ballpoint pen "Like" climate-neutral at no extra cost. In 2011, they also introduced writing instruments made of biobased plastic for the first time. So, there are lots of good selling points for the promotional product trade.

Quality made in Germany

With only a few exceptions, all Schneider writing instruments are manufactured in Germany. Schneider thus guarantees top quality and compliance with exacting German social and ecological standards. Quality made in Germany has many facets and at Schneider it begins with research and development. In-house laboratories are the mainstay for the high-quality pen tip and component technology that characterises Schneider products. Controllers and ink feeders, even inks, gels and pastes are developed and constantly improved at Schneider. In-house designers give the pens their distinctive shape. The level of in-house manufacturing is also very impressive – around 90 per cent of all components and products are manufactured at Schneider's own production facilities: plastic injection moulding, tip manufacturing, assembly, packaging, screen and pad printing, tool and mould making as well as special-purpose machines – all under Schneider's own control. Highly qualified employees and quality management are the foundations on which the brand can build.

Brands enhance campaigns

Virtually all models are also available for the promotional product trade. Particularly the models of the Slider family are real highlights among the promotional writing instruments because of their impressive design and their outstanding writing qualities. Advertising messages really catch the eye, especially on the new black and black-and-white models. The Epsilon ballpoint pen is also available in an elegant design and is now also available in discreet black and black and white. The new touch function combines the world of writing with the digital world. This allows the promotional product trade to offer its customers a wide range of branded writing instruments which appeal with the advantages of an established brand. Schneider is synonymous with quality and sustainability, outstanding product characteristics, durability and suitability for everyday use. All these values are also transported in the promotional use of the branded writing instruments and convey to the recipient a sense of appreciation and the good feeling left by high-quality products made in Germany. Branded products enhance any campaign – especially for writing instruments. Brand-name writing instruments as advertising vehicles are the first choice particularly for brand companies.

Sustainability included

The exemplary commitment to environmental friendliness and sustainability in all areas has been reflected in Multi-level quality management is also a trademark of Schneider. To this end, automated machines are used to some extent, but there are also genuine “test writers” who evaluate the writing characteristics.

corporate policy for decades and is a determining factor in corporate action. This approach has been visible and verifiable in the certification according to the EU Eco-Audit Regulation EMAS since 1998. EMAS is a voluntary instrument of the European Union, helping companies to continually improve their environmental performance. It is one of the most demanding environmental management systems in the world and is committed to regulations that are more stringent than, for example, ISO 14001. Schneider was not only the first holder but for more than ten years the only holder of this valuable certificate in the writing instrument industry. After having made environmentally friendly production its declared goal and consistently implementing it, Schneider is therefore a pioneer in the industry. Every three years, a consolidated and validated environmental statement is published. In addition, a sustainability report provides additional information that underpins the statement “We care” with facts. How Schneider Schreibgeräte addresses the challenges of environmental and social responsibility in concrete terms will be the topic in one of the coming issues – as an inspiration and guide for all companies that take responsibility and sustainability seriously.

BE CREATIVE is the name of the collection of Anda Present, the Hungarian supplier of promotional products. Moreover, it is also the motto of the company that Attila András founded over 20 years ago, a company that has developed rapidly over the past two decades.

Successful in the market for over 20 years

Dedicated to innovation

Anda Present has evolved from a domestic company into a renowned European supplier of promotional products. Today, the company imports, produces and finishes a wide range of promotional products. All activities are coordinated at the head office in Budapest. In the Hungarian capital are not only the administration as well as the sales, marketing and sales departments. The vast number of 4,000 distributors in Europe and the Middle East are also supplied from here. More than 1,600 products are permanently available in Budapest. On the outskirts of the Hungarian capital, Anda Present has a 10,000-square-metre area for printing and logistics.

Diversity in every respect

17 analogue and digital printing processes can be used by Anda Present to produce some three million imprints every month. The portfolio ranges from traditional pad printing and engraving, finishing ceramics as well as UV LED printing and doming with epoxy resin. Since 2016, Anda Present has owned another printing and production facility in Kalocsa, 100 kilometres south of Budapest. Here, 50 employees work in the field of printing as well as the further development and production of the BE CREATIVE product line. The 6,000-square-metre building is currently only partially used. However, it is continuously being expanded in order to be able to support Anda Present's expansion even further. In addition to Budapest and Kalocsa, Anda Present also has two European sales offices – one in Brno, Czech Republic, and one in the Dutch city of Deventer as a representative office for the Benelux countries.

17 analogue and digital printing processes can be used by Anda Present – from traditional pad printing to UV LED printing.

On the outskirts of Budapest, Anda Present stores more than 1,600 products on 10,000 square metres.

Ambitious plans for 2017

When selecting their desired products, the distributors can access the annually published COOL catalogue as well as the YES catalogue published at the end of each year. Thanks to the various in-house printing technologies, the products can be finished into customer-specific products. High quality and fast delivery times are by no means at the expense of a competitive price. Quite the contrary. According to the company, an outstanding price-performance ratio is just as much a matter of course at Anda Present as the continuous development of products and printing technologies. "We feel committed to innovation", is the word from Budapest. And this innovation has a name: BE CREATIVE. With BE CREATIVE, Anda Present has set itself a commitment: "Our brand BE CREATIVE is made up of very special products which are developed and hand-picked by us, each of them convincing due to their creativity and customisation potential." For Anda Present: BE CREATIVE includes innovative products which are highly customisable – in many cases starting with an order quantity of just 50 pieces. Combined with a short processing time, real alternatives to Far East offers are created. Many of the BE CREATIVE products are produced or assembled in Europe. Anda Present promises a new BE CREATIVE look for 2017: "We have visually optimised our products in order to be able to better represent customisation possibilities. This allows us to give even greater expression to the key values of our brand – unique, innovative, easily available."

In the tradition of a family business

When Attila András founded Anda Present in 1995, one aspect was very important to him: it should be a family business. This principle has continued to this day. Two generations have long been working under one roof. With his son Richard, Attila András, who still holds the position of Managing Director, knows his company will continue to be in reliable and professional hands in the future. Both are united by a resolute corporate philosophy. This philosophy is based on four main pillars: product and printing technology innovations, a market-oriented and partnership-based business strategy, a full-service portfolio as well as social and environmental responsibility. Anda Present is well positioned for the future with this philosophy. After all, father and son András still have many plans. The launch of the new website and the e-commerce portal is planned for the second quarter of this year. In this project, too, the two have set the bar very high: The main focus of the new website is to implement the most competitive customer system for online print order management. In addition to digital innovations, Anda Present also wants to move forward in product development and in expanding production facilities. The BE CREATIVE product line is to be expanded to include the company's own products in order to increase the proportion of products "Made in Europe". In addition, Anda Present would like to invest one million euros in production and printing facilities at the Kalocsa site during this year. At the same time, new employees are to be hired. The workforce is set to grow to 100 employees.

Special social responsibility

Anda Present has demonstrated a very special social commitment in Kalocsa. The branch office is located in an economically weak region of Hungary. Anda Present is therefore interested in a systematic expansion of the location to promote the local labour market. Corporate responsibility at Anda Present has a high priority. For more than a decade, the company has regularly donated to the Hungarian Red Cross, supported kindergartens, schools and sports clubs, and integrated people with intellectual disabilities. One thing is very important to Anda Present's executives: "We want to have satisfied customers who can rely on our over 100 employees from eleven countries at any time. And we want the people who work for Anda Present to be able to rely on us in every way, as well as the needy members of our society." <

The new brand on the market

Patrick Döring has found a new, appropriate place in the industry.

The product range that will be presented by the team at the leading trade show for the promotional product market will intentionally focus on high-quality notebooks and promotional accessories.

"Recognisable high quality"

With all its advantages, the long-standing experience of the company's founders in the market will help to support advertising professionals at national and international level. MGM concept® is a young business unit of M3 concept, with a focus on promotion and merchandising. The specialists of MGM concept design innovative products made by an on-site team in China.

Business unit MGM concept

Three creative brands

Up to now, three brand names have been created by MGM concept: FilzUp!®, CardLight® and Soundwunder®. We introduce these remarkable products on this page.

FilzUP! Under the label FilzUP!, glass coasters are produced in different finishes from various materials (felt, cork, neoprene, rubber or combinations). You can choose from a new digital printing process developed by MGM concept: a felt logo print, a photo-print or PU leather embossing. All coasters are water-impermeable and present advertising messages in an attractive way.

CardLight stands for key pendants with a small, practical light. They help to find a lock and bring light into the depths of a handbag. Advertising messages are thus becoming a permanent companion.

Soundwunder The name Soundwunder® says it all. Small sound systems that provide great sound effects. Music makes things much easier – all the more so if the advertising message reveals to whom one owes this pleasure.

Durable products MGM concept does not want to produce “disposable promotional gifts”, but rather long-lasting products which bring lasting pleasure. This credo applies to its own brands as well as to other products. In addition to its own product concepts, MGM concept also creates tailor-made products according to customer requirements. “Individual needs can be taken fully into account,” assures Managing Director Martin Gehrs.

Sales partners wanted Emphasis is not only placed on quality in the manufacture of products, but also on the processing of orders. “MGM concept stands for a satisfying service and is interested in a long-standing, trusting business relationship. Every customer is seen as a personal partner”, says Gehrs, who is looking forward to the future: “At the beginning of 2017, MGM concept will be launching a new souvenirs segment. G-tag from Gigaset finds lost handbags or office keys in a jiffy. Just attach a G-tag to the object and link it to a smartphone by Bluetooth 4.0 by way of the free G-tag app, available for iOS and Android. This app triggers a visual and acoustic warning when users go too far away from the G-tag and thus prevents them from leaving the handbag lying in a café or the office keys at home.

Myligacard from Christoph Gawlytta is the analogue pocket-size app for keeping up with the current situation in the German Football League in a slide. Spindler GmbH has fully devoted itself to making ideas visible, making them tangible and optimally organising them. From the presentation folder to the RFID protection sleeve: Spindler always strives to achieve the highest quality in its uncompromising fulfilment of customer requirements. An individualist in the field of promotional products.

30 years of promotional folders

Making great ideas tangible

Victor Hugo once said: Nothing is more powerful than an idea whose time has come. The time for Andreas Spindler's idea came in July 1986 when he founded his company for processing plastic: foil-welded products. From the outset, the emphasis has been on custom-made products to ensure that customer expectations are entirely met.

The company is booming

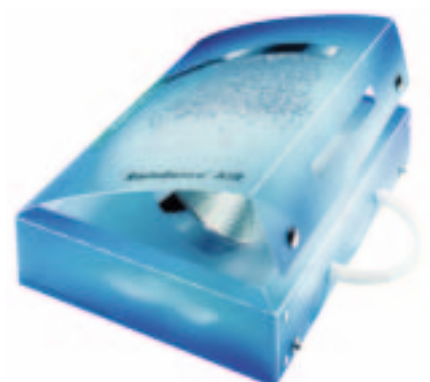

The idea has indeed proven to be a powerful one. Spindler's corporate concept has obviously struck a nerve – the company is booming. After only five years, continuous growth has necessitated a new location in Pfahlbronn; the company's machine park must be constantly expanded. The product portfolio is also growing. Spindler GmbH has quickly established itself as an institution in the industry for promotional products.

Wide range of products

Presentation products, organisational products, packaging and RFID security products: The central theme in the wide range of products and services frequently addresses the key issue of making customers' ideas and messages individual and easy to relate to. Developing the strength of an idea at the optimal time is the company's aim, thus making it far more than just a supplier of promotional products. Spindler strives to provide guidance from the initial impulse.

Organisational and presentation products such as document and sales folders are the central elements of Spindler's range, and innovative packaging solutions are also available.

Totally individual solutions

The materials used are as versatile as the product range – polypropylene, cardboard, welded plastic products and laminated products. Spindler GmbH encourages its customers to be inspired by its wide-ranging standard range to create entirely individual solutions. Comprehensive advice is also available on request, whilst samples can be created quickly and professionally. It is not by chance that Spindler GmbH has been meeting the wishes of the promotional product industry for more than 15 years through the renowned commercial agency Konzelmann: Individual solutions in the promotional product trade are thus a tradition at the company.

A wealth of imagination

Flexibility, premium quality and absolute reliability of delivery: The foundation of company success at Spindler is based on these three core values. Flexibility means, above all, to specifically offer the customer the solution that works best for him. In this context, data security is another key word: RFID systems are now an integral part of daily routine. However, they not only bring relief but also new risks because the technology allows undetected reading and spying of sensitive data which are stored, for example, on credit cards or ID cards. Spindler is fully aware of these dangers with its ID-Protec series. Products from the ID-Protec family guarantee TÜV-tested protection for the radio chips in personal documents. As a key garage, the new product called SecuCase plus even protects cars with a keyless function from data theft.

No compromises

Organisational and presentation products such as document and sales folders are the central elements of Spindler's range. In addition, there are innovative packaging solutions and numerous special services. Spindler focuses on a variety of colours and textures: the company's philosophy is that ideas should not only be experienced visually, but also made tagible. Especially the "soft art" label is based on different surface structures made of high-quality, durable plastic. Finished "macro art" fine paperboard is one of the standard materials at Spindler. The special feature: The elegant and sturdy fine paperboard consists of 100% recycled paper, but it does not look like it. The great constants in Spindler's product diversity are therefore the highest quality and sustainability.

Unconditional reliability

Another constant is unconditional reliability. All production steps at Spindler are carried out in Germany, and the excellent equipment makes it possible to carry out screen printing, UV-digital printing and hot-foil embossing in-house. The fact that the company's location has been systematically expanded from the outset, that no compromises have been made with technology and materials, and that a well-established team is at work behind the scenes pays off in many ways: Spindler GmbH can guarantee its customers reliable order processing. Following the initial idea and a comprehensive consultation, usually only a short time is necessary until an offer is submitted and a professional sample has been produced. Punctual packaging and delivery are the top priority at Spindler.

High-quality individual solutions

Standstill and resting on his laurels is not an option for anyone at Spindler. Instead, trends and needs are constantly under review, and technical possibilities are continually developed to continue to surprise with individual problem solutions. One of the latest clever acquisitions of the company is, for example, a state-of-the-art ultrasound welding machine which enables the efficient production of individual document folders with offset printing: fast and inexpensive even in small batches, it increases the attractive flexibility in the assortment. High-quality individual solutions continue to be the key to Spindler's success – after 30 years, the underlying corporate philosophy is as strong as ever. Visitors to the PSI 2017 can get a direct impression of this at the company's stand 12L14. <

Offene Systeme Software!, a software company based in Germany, recently celebrated its 20th anniversary. With its KS1 merchandise management software used daily by numerous distributors of promotional products, the company has set a milestone in the digital development of the promotional product sector. We discussed the development and recent upgrading of the CRM tool with the managing partner Thomas Brecht.

KS1 from Offene Systeme Software!

Developed by professionals for professionals

KS1 is constantly being expanded and optimised.

KS1 users know Thomas Brecht as the competent, clever two-metre tall man from Offene Systeme Software!, who developed the industry-specific KS1 merchandise management software. It is no wonder the computer science graduate and his closest colleague Renate Gransee have an answer to all questions concerning the program. Both explain the innovations and updates to their customers and always offer help when a solution to a tricky task must be found.

The secret of success of the software: It originated in the promotional product trade and was developed by professionals. In this case, the professionals worked for the Brühl-based company Appel Promotion, for which KS1 was originally launched. The concept was so robust and future-compatible, however, the software was marketed to distributors and consultants from 1998 onwards. Since then, more and more new applications and functions have been integrated to stay abreast of the development of industry-specific processes.

Up-to-date and practical relevance

“Up-to-date and practical relevance are the greatest strengths of KS1”, explains Thomas Brecht. KS1 is constantly being expanded and optimised. The requirements and tasks in the fast-moving promotional product sector are constantly changing. Brecht and his team are not only constantly monitoring new technical developments, but are also keeping an eye on what is happening on the market. By constantly exchanging information with the users of KS1, he is always well informed. “We have a close customer relationship and therefore always have our finger on the pulse of the industry. The suggestions that come from customers show us what the industry needs. We try to implement what is meaningful. “Further developments benefit all customers as the licence agreement includes maintenance as well as updates. “We treat each customer equally and the same prices apply to everyone. There are no hidden costs and the data belongs to the customer himself”, emphasizes Brecht.

A professional duo

The cooperation between the computer Scientist Brecht and the industry insider Gransee is particularly valuable in the areas of support and further development. Renate Gransee, who started out in the promotional product business in 1990, immediately understands where the user's real problems lie, what he still wants and where to support him. If one can derive a general requirement from this and if it is possible to integrate this requirement into the program, Thomas Brecht carries out the necessary programming. Several tools have already been created in dialogue with the customer – thus, many customers work on the software. The system also allows customers to program and integrate the desired applications themselves. With such individual solutions, customers have the possibility to tailor KS1 to their own requirements.

One click and everything is in view

“CRM is becoming increasingly important as a tool for active corporate management. This is why the latest version of KS1 complements the CRM module with many other useful tools. The aim is to cover the entire interaction with the customer, to make it quickly and easily comprehensible to all employees, and to help the user to build a long-term relationship “, explain the two experts. With one click, the customer now sees all the information that belongs to one address: He has inquiries, offers, orders and invoices as well as outstanding items, deadlines, tasks and notes directly in front of him. He can also use all communication channels directly from the application. If, for example, he is talking to a customer and making notes, he immediately has the previous notes before his very eyes and can manage tasks and enter deadlines. He has the entire communication with this customer in front of him in a single window. Thanks to the tab system, the user can open additional CRMs at the same time. If a call is received, for example, he can switch to this customer without losing track.

Very high service level

The information flow which must be considered during day-to-day work (such as deadlines and due dates in the case of files, dates, stock levels, outstanding customer requests, etc.) is managed and monitored by the system. In this way, a very high level of service is achieved. Task management tools enable efficient teamwork and maintain an overview from different perspectives. “Everyone who works with the system has the same information. This makes cooperation much easier”, says Brecht.

Optimal use of resources

The CRM system is also closely interlinked with the information system. This makes it possible to actively plan based on information collected from all customers and to provide relevant products and services to existing and new customers via marketing measures (cross-selling and up-selling). The various evaluations can be executed directly from the different applications depending on the context and situation. By evaluating the increasingly complex and comprehensive (customer) data according to various criteria, the user can make the right decisions more easily, and the organisation of tasks and also the productivity benefit directly. Through the close integration of the various CRM functions into the central productivity tools, which are based on the GTD methods (“getting things done”), tasks are efficiently handled in the team. Through the information system, many data sources can be read out and evaluated individually according to arbitrary criteria that has deliberately not been predefined. When based on their own current data, these findings provide the user with a decisive advantage over the competition, enabling resources to be used optimally. <

A perfect team:
Renate Gransee
and Thomas Brecht.

Today Goldstar has a growing trade presence in Belgium, Switzerland and Austria, with plans to eventually expand the business right across Europe and beyond.

360° laser engraving

Goldstar is convinced that its Irish factory contains Europe's largest laser engraving facility, and in the past year they have increased their number of laser machines by around 50% to an eye-catching sixty-seven laser machines. According to Colin Loughran, General Manager of Gold-star, “We can now decorate up to 1 million metal pens per day or 7 million per week on 3 shifts. This additional investment will further facilitate the super-fast shipment of our metal range.” According to Loughran, the most exciting development in metal pen decoration is the explosion in demand for 360° laser engraving. “I believe that within two years, 360° engraving could become the industry standard for metal pen personalisation. Why would customers settle for the headache of trying to squeeze their logo into a restrictive 5mm window when they now have a much larger space, with greater creative opportunity to get their brand message across, at minimal cost? We’re very excited by the possibilities of 360° engraving at Goldstar,” added Loughran.

Team expands rapidly

The company continues to expand its workforce and has recently welcomed an additional four new people to its back-office team, with further plans to recruit an additional four people by early 2017. According to Loughran, “Our team is expanding rapidly and our aim is to provide some of the highest levels of back-office customer support within the industry.” Joining Goldstar’s UK and Ireland team is Jasmine Mortimer from Australia. Jasmine has an executive MBA from RMIT University in Melbourne, and comes with vast experience in office management. Valeria Kunakova joins the Goldstar D-A-CH team and is fluent in five languages. Alfred Balcaen, from Belgium, has joined Goldstar’s French customer support team. In addition to speaking French and English, Alfred has a master’s degree in Japanese, marketing and management. The final recent addition to the Goldstar team is Niamh Gargan, from Ireland, who has taken on the new role of Goldstar samples coordinator and administrator.

New ‘Bowie’ pen range

New product development and significant further investment in decoration technology will play a key part in Goldstar’s strategy in 2017. Loughran is particularly excited by the launch of their new ‘Bowie’ pen range, which is the first Goldstar ‘branded’ product containing their Goldstar Swirl. According to Loughran, “We believe The Bowie range has all the ingredients to become a very successful product, with its soft-touch barrel, mirror engraved finish and ‘Eversmooth Elite’ German ink refill, which offers a unique writing experience with its 1.2mm tungsten carbide ball.”

Infamous PSI Irish party

Goldstar will exhibit at more shows than ever in 2017 and according to Loughran “the biggest event of all is still the PSI show.” Goldstar’s now infamous PSI Irish party in Fatty’s Irish pub has become a great hit with distributors and suppliers alike, and this year one of Ireland’s most popular musicians and industry favourite, Cathal Dolan, is being flown in for the event. “We look forward to meeting our customers and launching our new catalogue and new marketing theme at PSI 2017. We’re very excited by the end-user day on Thursday, and of course we also look forward to our annual PSI Irish party on Wednesday evening. The party is getting bigger each year, partly because we encourage both distributors and suppliers to attend,” said Loughran. “Everybody in our industry works so hard, so we feel it’s important to take some time out in the evening, relax, sing a few songs and have some ‘Irish style’ fun with our industry peers.” Loughran advises that if anyone wants a pass for this year’s party to call to their stand in Hall 12, stand 12G38.

Precision, speed, flexibility and efficiency – four of the countless advantages that characterize laser marking as the finishing method for promotional products. All these properties are combined in the machines from the company MSW-Lasertechnik GmbH.

2D and 3D fibre lasers

No fear of rounded edges

Managing Director Mario P. Schlosser combines his hobby with his profession and is quick to reach the customer in his "Cirrus".

The company is located in Bonfeld between Sinsheim and Heilbronn and is regarded as a specialist in the field of impactful laser marking of promotional products. MSW-Lasertechnik has been a member of the PSI network for more than 28 years and currently has more than 70 other PSI members among its customers. The customer base of the laser professionals extends far beyond the borders of Germany. Even business partners in Australia are convinced of the products and services of the MSW team. "Participating at the PSI Trade Show is one of our absolute musts in our yearly schedule", emphasizes Mario P. Schlosser, Managing Director. But MSW is also a regular exhibitor at the Gift Show in Hong Kong, thus underlining the company's international ambitions and the corresponding demand.

Comprehensive service

The product range of high-quality laser equipment includes the Blue Line fibre laser, the so-called "Goldesel", a particularly powerful mobile class 1 laser device, as well as 3D fibre lasers with which complex mouldings can be engraved on different planes, inclinations and uneven contours without significant distortions; also accessories such as work protection housings and workbenches. MSW is also particularly strong when it comes to installing lasers in complete systems: "In collaboration with our partner GPE Ardenghi, we are able to adapt every automation solution to the individual wishes and requirements of our customers", says Schlosser. According to MSW, the laser devices are also "absolutely maintenance-free" and score with their "stable performance". Interested parties can get a first impression of the machines on the website of the company, either directly at MSW in the showroom or, if desired, also by means of a demonstration device "live" on site. In this case, the managing director also likes to combine his hobby – flying his "Cirrus" – with his profession, and can therefore quickly reach the customer to provide individual service.

Lasers on site

The professionals at MSW attach great importance to giving advice. That is why Mario P. Schlosser's team has been expanded to include another product expert and salesman. Steffen Keller has reinforced the team in sales, and advises customers in all aspects of 2D and 3D fibre lasers. He also visits prospective customers with a portable laser for demonstrations. "With their own products, customers experience first hand how much potential lies in our lasers and what possibilities they open up", says Steffen Keller. At the PSI 2017, there will be another opportunity to see the many benefits of the MSW collection in Hall 12 at stand 12A07.

Albert van der Veen

Forming the perfect match

As two partners that are ideally suited to each other, Albert van der Veen and Xindao form the perfect match. A stroke of luck. The fact that Albert van der Veen chose to embark on his very successful career path in the field of promotional products is due to a single circumstance: an internship abroad during his studies.

An internship during his international business studies brought Albert van der Veen into contact with the world of promotional products. However, initially it was only important for him to do an internship abroad. The industry was secondary. But as life sometimes plays tricks, a coincidence led to the decisive path. And, of course, we might now ask ourselves the question: Are there coincidences or was it fate? From a philosophical point of view, coincidence is what occurs when something else could have happened under the same conditions. If Albert van der Veen had chosen another internship during his studies, he would perhaps not be the managing director of the Dutch promotional product specialist Xindao. But regardless of whether it was coincidence or fate, the two found each other. And, according to the 46-year-old, they are also very well suited to each other: "Xindao is a very ambitious, very young company that differs from the others. These qualities are perfect for me." Sandro van Hellenberg Hubar, one of the founders of Xindao, goes one step further: "Albert's DNA perfectly matches that of Xindao." Small wonder, therefore, that he convinced the father of two daughters to join his company six years ago.

Beginning of a lasting bond

But first things first. When Albert van der Veen studied international business at Hoge School Haarlem, he had to complete an internship abroad. He chose to travel to the USA – to PF Concept. The company was so impressed, it offered him a permanent position after his examination in 1995. This was the beginning of a lasting bond with the promotional product sector that has continued till this day. For 15 years, Albert van der Veen helped to steer the fortunes of PF Concept, as the head of product development and the marketing department as well as a member of the management team. Then came the point in time at which he sought a new challenge. “I joined the company in 1995 when Polyflame generated sales of 20 million euros, which then increased enormously to 250 million euros in 2008. In addition, the company, as I see it, had lost a certain individuality after numerous takeovers and management buyouts. Nevertheless, PF Concept was still a professional and efficient company. I’ve learned a lot from PF Concept”, says Albert van der Veen.

Same ideas and same visions

“The reasons for joining Xindao were the company was smaller, more individual and consequently more flexible in its decision-making processes, as well as the growth potential offered by using a very professional platform and the good image of the company in the market. Equally important were the personal similarities with the board, with which I share the same ideas and the same vision. I have always seen Xindao as a supplier that stands out from the crowd. When I was asked if I wanted to go to the next step with the company, it was clear to me that I had to seize this opportunity. “No sooner said than done. Albert van der Veen joined Xindao at the very top, becoming a global manager with a clear mandate to lead the company to the forefront in Europe, to increase sales and profitability. This position led him and his now family of four to Shanghai for five years. A decision that he welcomed, for “the heart of Xindao beats in Shanghai in every respect. This is where all the strings are pulled”. Today, the 46-year-old is back at the company headquarters in the Dutch city of Rijswijk.

Clear, individual identity

During the six years of his affiliation with Xindao, much has changed at the company. Important to Albert van der Veen, however, is that “an excellent foundation had already been laid for these changes. Over the past 30 years, Xindao has achieved a great deal. The founders take credit for this. They have provided Xindao with a lot of entrepreneurial spirit and culture.” Xindao was founded by Diederik van Styrum and Sandro van Hellenberg Hubar

ALBERT VAN DER VEEN IN PERSON

What was your first thought this morning?

Hope that today will be again a business day as good as yesterday!

When is your day a good one?

After a positive day at work coming home and having dinner with my family hearing all stories of them.

What gets you in a good mood?

Playing football!

And what drives you crazy?

Election debates between Hillary Clinton and Donald Trump!

When do you lose track of time?

Actually never.

If you were forced to take a four-week holiday, where would you go?

A tour to Argentina, Chili, Peru and Costa Rica. Because I have been all around the world but never yet in South America.

What do you like spending your money on?

Nice dinners and holidays.

Do you let yourself get seduced by advertisements?

I do not think so.

When is a promotional product a good promotional product?

When it is used and appreciated by the addressee!

What is the best promotional product you have ever received?

I hardly get promotional products/gifts. Once I got a branded wine opener which I still use.

What do you find irritating in relation to promotional products?

Useless plastic promotional products with large company logos that end up in the bin or drawer within one day.

in the Dutch town of Rijswijk in 1986. The company has evolved from a start-up to one of the largest globally operating manufacturers of promotional product, serving more than 4,000 distributors of promotional products across Europe. The company name “Xindao”, which refers to a new way, a new direction, is the best expression of the philosophy of the multinational advertising specialist: establishing businesses with new ideas and long-term relationships. Xindao now has offices in Scandinavia, the UK, France, Spain, Italy, China and Russia. “The greatest achievement,” says Albert van der Veen, “is that we have become a leading manufacturer of everyday products with their own, clear identity. We keep our promises and deliver what is needed – the customer is always the focus of our interest. This explains why we were able to take the company to where it is now. We cover twelve product areas and produce state-of-the-art technology.” However, he is undeniably credited with the fact that Xindao’s sales have doubled since 2010 and are steadily rising. “Obviously, our customers appreciate what we do and what we offer. In the meantime, they regard us as a supplier of daily necessities. That was not so before 2010”, says Albert van der Veen in emphasizing the performance of the entire company. When asked what makes Xindao distinctive within the promotional product sector, a prompt answer follows: “Xindao has a clear identity of its own. We are not simply one of many suppliers like most of the others. We believe in functionality that makes the difference and is recognized by the recipients.” Moreover, “distributors appreciate us because we do not simply use issues such as compliance as a marketing tool. Acting in accordance with European laws and regulations is something that our customers must not expect as something special, but as a matter of course.”

Intensifying partnership with distributors

Albert van der Veen sees a future in good supplier-distributor relations. “There will always be suppliers, for example, who enter the market and can contact end customers directly via online trading. But the value-added chain, as it is today, will continue.” As for Xindao, he added, “In any case, we will continue to deal exclusively with distributors. We want an even closer relationship and partnership.” And in the view of Albert van der Veen there is also a good reason for this: “We do not believe in cheap, useless products. Therefore, functional products will make the difference. And these products need supportive advice when they are targeted to the customer – especially when a story about the product is to be told by the customer. This is where distributors and consultants come into play. Precisely because they are urgently needed is why I am firmly convinced that the ‘traditional distributor’ has enormous growth potential.” At this point, however, the Dutchman sees the trade at a crossroads: “Distributors have to decide: Either they are pure online distributors or they remain traditional consultants and take advantage of their added value.” At the same time, Albert van der Veen also emphasizes that he is grateful to all distributors who have placed their trust in Xindao over the past 30 years. “They have made us what we are today. And together with them, we will continue to grow in the next 30 years.”

Finding the right balance

When it comes to the plans and projects of Xindao, Albert van der Veen categorizes them in short-, medium- and long-term goals. In the short term, he summed up without beating about the bush: “Doing what we do today

MY GOAL WITH XINDAO?
OUR IDENTITY.

Albert van der Veen

but just a little better. We would like to launch new products every month through our webshop, instead of publishing all our new products in a catalogue once or twice a year.” In the medium term, Albert van der Veen wants Xindao to create an even more customer-friendly e-commerce solution with a simple order function. And in the long term? “With our collection, we want to capture the North American market and expand our sales activities in China. My personal goal with Xindao is to grow without endangering our identity.” And what about your personal goals? Again, Albert van der Veen does not need long to answer: “I want to find the right balance between work and private life, and travel around the world with my family.” <

Healthy advertising accents

Active and trendy describe the topics of our February issue. There are countless leisure activities and activities associated with hobbies and sport. The new adventure worlds require suitable accessories, including those in the booming areas of sports and leisure wear. And promotional products relating to these buzzwords are always in season. Popular sports act as powerful promotional engines and give noticeable impetus to the promotional product industry. That is why we have expanded this topic to include "fan merchandise". The second topic pool of this issue presents promotionally effective products from the calendar, paper and packaging sectors.

Please give some consideration to the product theme of the March 2017 issue with the theme groups "Textiles, caps and accessories" as well as "Luggage, bags and (small) leather goods" and send your product presentations (image and text) by not later than 17 January 2017 to: Edit Line GmbH, Redaktion PSI Journal, e-mail hoechemer@edit-line.de.

The very special PSI

From the 10 to 12 January 2017, the continental world of promotional products will be rotating about the trade show axis of the PSI for the 55th time and will again be presenting the wonderful diversity of representational advertising. For the first time in its history, it will also be conditionally open to industry customers on the final day of the trade show – with the aim of motivating even more advertising companies to use promotional products. Here, on this optimal presentation platform, it will be instantly obvious how promotionally effective the promotional product is. We will be reviewing this premiere in the February issue.

Elegant companion in any weather

In 1946, Ernst Doppler founded an umbrella factory. His passion for high-quality products and solid craftsmanship laid the foundations for a company that is now one of the leading manufacturers of sunshades and umbrellas, and celebrates international success. Umbrellas from the company doppler accompany people in the elements of nature – the sun, rain, snow and wind. We present the manufacturing facility together with its individual and customisable products.

We warmly welcome you in Düsseldorf and wish you a pleasant stay!

For planners who leave nothing to chance.

Reliable exhibition data bears this brand:

Explaining what figures mean in plain language – this is our specialty. Because you can trust exhibitions certified by us: How many visitors were there? What were their occupations? How many visitors made buying decisions? We supply the answers. Promptly. Clearly. Precisely. For around 300 exhibitions in Germany and worldwide.

GUSTOHalle 9, Stand 9L32 & 9L42 / Hall 9, booth 9L32 & 9L42

Es ist das Zusammenspiel vieler Sinne, die eine Marke umfassend wahrnehmbar und unverkennbar macht. „Multisensorik“ heißt das Zauberwort. Schmecken, riechen und genießen Sie also Werbeartikel erneut im Tasting-Pavilion GUSTO am Stand 9L32/9L42.

It is the interaction between all senses that makes it possible to perceive a brand from start to finish and make it unmistakable. The buzz word is "multi-sensory". Taste, smell and enjoy promotional articles in the tasting pavilion GUSTO at stand 9L32/9L42.

Manugoo is crowdsourcing (democratic product development) for consumer goods and leads to validated products. Now we are developing the products of the future together with partner companies and their customers! For the PSI we have developed an innovative promotional product, which is presented as an example at the PSI 2017. On our platform www.manugoo.de, problems can be shared, ideas can be suggested, opinions can be submitted and finished products can be submitted. Users agree on the individual ideas and the following development steps (functions, shapes, color, material, price, etc.). At the end of the product development phase, exactly the product which the market wants is produced. In this way, we can make use of the enormous potential for innovation in Germany and avoid faulty developments.
